Centennial Park celebrates decade

By JULIE MURPHY
Staff Reporter

The celebration of Centennial Park's 10th anniversary is really a celebration of the spirit of volunteerism in Antioch. The celebration will be held on May 11 at 4 p.m. in the park located on Anita between Depot and North Ave.

Parks department director Laurie Stahl said, "The whole town came together, under the direction of Ted and Vickie Axton, to help build this playground in just five days in May (13-17), 1992."

Stahl said she expects the celebration will, in part, be a reunion of those worked with the Axtons on the project. It will also be send-off to Vickie who is leaving the park board after 13 years of service.

"Words cannot express how much I am going to miss having her on the park board," said Stahl. "She's the most amazing volunteer, a role model for volunteerism. I don't think I would have been so deeply committed to some of our projects without her enthusiasm."

There will be a short presentation about the construction of the playground, complete with pictures and a short video. This project won the Governor's Home Town Award.

Cake and refreshments will be served.

Commemorative T shirts will be available at the event or at the parks office on 806 Holbek Dr. Nine-year-old resident Kaley Lindstrom designed the shirts that will sell for $10 each. Size range from a medium child's to a double extra large adult's.

Parks department office manager Candace Olsen said all of the money from the sale of the T shirts will go to the Centennial Playground Fund. She noted that this is the only park within the Village of Antioch that has its own account.

"The money will be used for maintenance or anything else that particular park needs," she said. "This is a unique park."

The Arbor Day event was held at Centennial Park the last weekend in April to help prepare for this celebration. Volunteers planted new trees and bushes, mulched and cleaned in preparation.

Forty students from Antioch Upper Grade School's National Junior Honors Society helped with the clean up efforts. Cub Scout Pack 191 made the work its community service project with about 30 scouts and their parents volunteering to rake playground fiber, shovel new sand and help with general clean up.

"The Village of Antioch public works department was very helpful with the planning and planting process," said Stahl. "Special thanks to Ron Horton and Tom Dvorak. John Ploss of Church Landscaping also volunteered his time for the landscaping design and planting."

Domino's Pizza and Big Bites, both in Antioch, donated pizza and hot dogs for the volunteers when the work was done.

At the committee meeting of the whole, Trustee Dorothy Larson said, "A lot of work, and a lot of clean-up was done in Centennial Park. We hope that everyone will come out for this celebration."

Don't honk for Wal-Mart

By JULIE MURPHY
Staff Reporter

"People are entitled to freedom of speech, but they should do it in their own name," said Trustee Barbara Porch when she announced that fliers are being distributed that read "Honk if you want Wal-Mart" and have been attributed to the Chamber of Commerce and list its phone number.

"Residents should know to look for things on our letterhead (not plain paper)," Porch, who is also executive director of the Chamber, added. "These fliers are not endorsed by either the Village of Antioch or the Chamber of Commerce."

Porch, clearly upset that an individual (or possibly a group of individuals) would create something and falsely attribute its origin, said, "These were very poorly written."

What the Chamber is doing is distributing a survey to its members, to be kept confidential outside of a percentage tabulation that will be presented to the Village of Antioch, about the opinions of bringing big box stores like Wal-Mart to Antioch.

Members are being asked to answer six multiple-choice questions. These questions are as follows: How knowledgeable do you feel you are about the impact of big box stores on our community? What type of impact do you think the big box stores will have on our business community? What is your local clientele's opinion regarding the big box stores? What is the most favorable attribute of the big box stores on Antioch? What is the most unfavorable attribute of big box stores on Antioch? What type of big box stores would you like to see in Antioch?

In a later conversation, Porch said she wanted to make it clear that the Chamber isn't lobbying one way or another for Wal-Mart. She said, "The best thing we can do is educate residents, merchants and officials about all the issues that surround bringing big box development into Antioch."

Porch said the surveys were faxed to members the evening of May 7. "We want as many members to give us input as possible," Porch added. "There are some members who don't have fax machines and we want them to contact us so we can get them a copy of the survey."

She reiterated that specific information in the survey would be kept confidential. "We aren't going to pass along individual comments, but just a tabulation of the responses," she said.

SWALCO ask dispose of waste properly

By JULIE MURPHY
Staff Reporter

Disposing of chemicals and electronics properly can be troublesome, but the Solid Waste Agency of Lake County (SWALCO) is doing a couple of things to make the task easier.

The agency is having an electronics recycling event on June 1 at the Motorola in Libertyville (Rte. 45) from 8:30 a.m.-3:30 p.m.

At the committee of the whole meeting, Trustee Dorothy Larson said, "SWALCO will be accepting things like small appliances, office equipment and computers, but will not be accepting large appliances, humidifiers or dehumidifiers."

For those who have been storing latex paints, SWALCO is working with the Village of Antioch to distribute free bags of crushed corncocks to area residents to be used to dispose of latex (only) paint.

Area residents can pick up the corncocks at the public works building located at 796 Holbek Dr. from 7 a.m.-3:30 p.m. Monday-Friday.

The corncocks are to be added in equal parts to the paint, mixed well and allowed to dry. Once completely dry, the open can of paint (no lid) can be taken out with the rest of the regular garbage.

This disposal technique is only for use with latex paints. One 5-pound bag of corncocks will dry approximately three-five gallons of latex paint.

New Episcopal Church opens doors

About a year after the St. Ignatius Episcopal Church moved out of the building on Main St. it called home since Nov. 16, 1916, it's having an organ recital and open house to celebrate the dedication of its new organ as well as the new facilities.

This event will be held on Saturday, May 11 at 3 p.m. at the church now located at the intersection of Depot and Deep Lake roads (about 1 mile north of Rte. 173).

"The whole community is invited to join us," said Father Vincent Eckholm, rector of the Episcopal Church. "This is a free event."

The recital will begin at 3 p.m. Devon Hollingsworth, minister of music and organist at the Christ Church in Oakbrook, will be the guest organist.

He is well known throughout the collar counties for his work with 15 different music groups at Christ Church as well as a concert series and a conservatory of music. Hollingsworth is responsible for the music performed on Christ Church's weekly radio and television broadcasts.

Additionally, Hollingsworth has received national exposure for his organ design and consultation services to the churches that have sought his help, St. Ignatius among them.

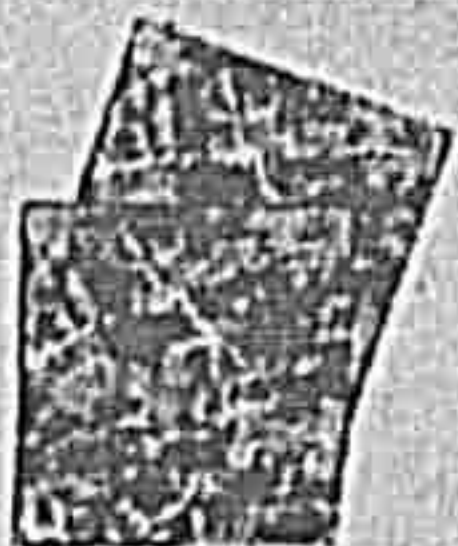

For more information, call Eckholm at 847-395-0652.

Carnival supports multiple worthy causes

By JULIE MURPHY
Staff Reporter

A carnival can provide more than just a good time for those who come to take advantage of its amusements. A carnival can raise money to support food pantries, fire and rescue as well as a myriad of deserving causes.

The 885 Civic Club is living up to its motto of "build today for a better tomorrow," by raising money with its annual fundraising carnival to help about 20 different groups and organizations throughout the area.

The carnival will be held Thursday, May 9 through Sunday, May 12 at Antioch's new designated carnival location in the parking lot behind the shops on the east side of Main St. by the Brook Memorial Wetland Sanctuary and Entertainment Center.

"We're pleased to be able to help so many worthy organizations," said member Jane Larson. "We make a difference by putting all the money we raise back into the community."

The hours will be from 6-10 p.m. on Thursday, 6-11 p.m. on Friday, 1-11 p.m. on Saturday and from 1 p.m. to closing on Sunday. "The closing

Friday Fest logo winner chosen

By JULIE MURPHY
Staff Reporter

A sunshine with a slight smirk crowned by the words Friday Fest is the winning design that will represent the village's newest summer event, soon to be Antioch tradition. Brian Johnson, a senior at Antioch Community High School created the winning design.

"I knew the idea had to be basic to work as a logo," he said. "I thought it should be happy and smiling because that's what you think of for a festival on Friday in the summer."

Community development director Glenda Sorensen said she and her Friday Fest volunteers had about 30 submissions from which to choose. She said, "We all agreed. We really liked this idea the best."

The submissions for the logo contest came from the high school's advanced drawing class taught by Cindy Howell.

"I asked Cindy for help, and she made this a class assignment," said Sorensen. "There were a lot of exceptional pieces."

For his efforts, Johnson will get to be part of the opening ceremony on June 14, will receive a T shirt with his logo printed on it and will receive a gift certificate from Main Street Frozen Custard.

The theme of the first week is "God Bless America. A special tribute will be paid to Antioch's heroes who serve on police department, fire department and rescue squad. The Lakes Area Choir will perform from 5-6:30 p.m. and will be followed by the Lakes Area Community Band at 8 p.m.

Fridays in Antioch will begin at 10 a.m. with a showcase of merchants in the business district. "Merchants will be bringing some of their special wares out on the sidewalks," said Sorensen. "It will make the area more festive and will bring attention to our truly unique shops."

The rest of the festivities will happen down by the William Brook Memorial Sanctuary and Entertainment Center at Orchard St. and Skidmore.

The Farmers' Market will open at 3 p.m. at 900 Skidmore in the parking lot giving residents an opportunity to buy fresh goodies in an open market atmosphere. The market will remain open until 7 p.m.

At the same time the Farmers' Market is running, children will have the opportunity to participate in the Itty Bitty Barter Toy Exchange. "We recommend that a parent accompany the children," said Sorensen. "It's great that the kids will be able to swap things, but a parent should be there to approve the trade."

Food and beverage booths will open at about 5 p.m. "It's possible that water and pop will be sold throughout the day," said Sorensen.

There will be a concert every week through Aug. 30 beginning at 8 p.m. "For some weeks, we have been fortunate enough to also schedule earlier evening entertainment," said Sorensen.

"Let's go racing...into summer" is the theme for June 21. There will be racecars on hand from the Wilmot Speedway. Tony and the Affects will perform at 8 p.m. with a

Antioch residents amazingly generous

The generosity of Antioch residents is exhibited every single time there is a fundraiser or a benefit to support either an organization or an individual.

Cathy Ursin sent me an e-mail and said that the benefit held for Micki Meyer, who is suffering from a rare form of cancer, raised over $7,000. She said, "The charity raffle and the benefit raised $6,768, and other donations were sent to the First National Bank-Employee Owned putting the total over $7,000."

Ursin said 52 prizes were awarded including pizza and a $500 gift certificate from Hope Electric.

"We also had two more televisions donated so three people won a television that night," Ursin added.

Ursin sends thanks to the community on behalf of Micki's family and friends at Shea's Iron Works.

OUR TOWN

Julie Murphy

While we're on the topic of generosity: don't forget to put non-perishable food items out by the mailbox on Saturday, May 11 in support of the Letter Carriers Food Drive. All of the food collected will go to the local food pantries.

Postal carrier and union steward Todd Erickson provided me with a "wish list" from the pantries.

There is the greatest need for the following items: spaghetti sauce, canned meats (tuna, chicken, salmon, turkey), jelly, pancake mix, canned fruit, canned juices, oatmeal, cereal, peanut butter, noodles, Bisquick, syrup, canned one-dish meals (stew, ravioli, etc.), beans (canned or dry), rice, macaroni and cheese mixes and breakfast items.

Donations can also be brought to the retail post office, Piggly Wiggly, or the Baskin-Robbins/Dunkin' Donuts. The latter is offering a 10-percent discount to those bringing in donations.

Cruise Night is back in force at Main Street Frozen Custard and Coffee House on Thursday nights from 6-9 p.m.

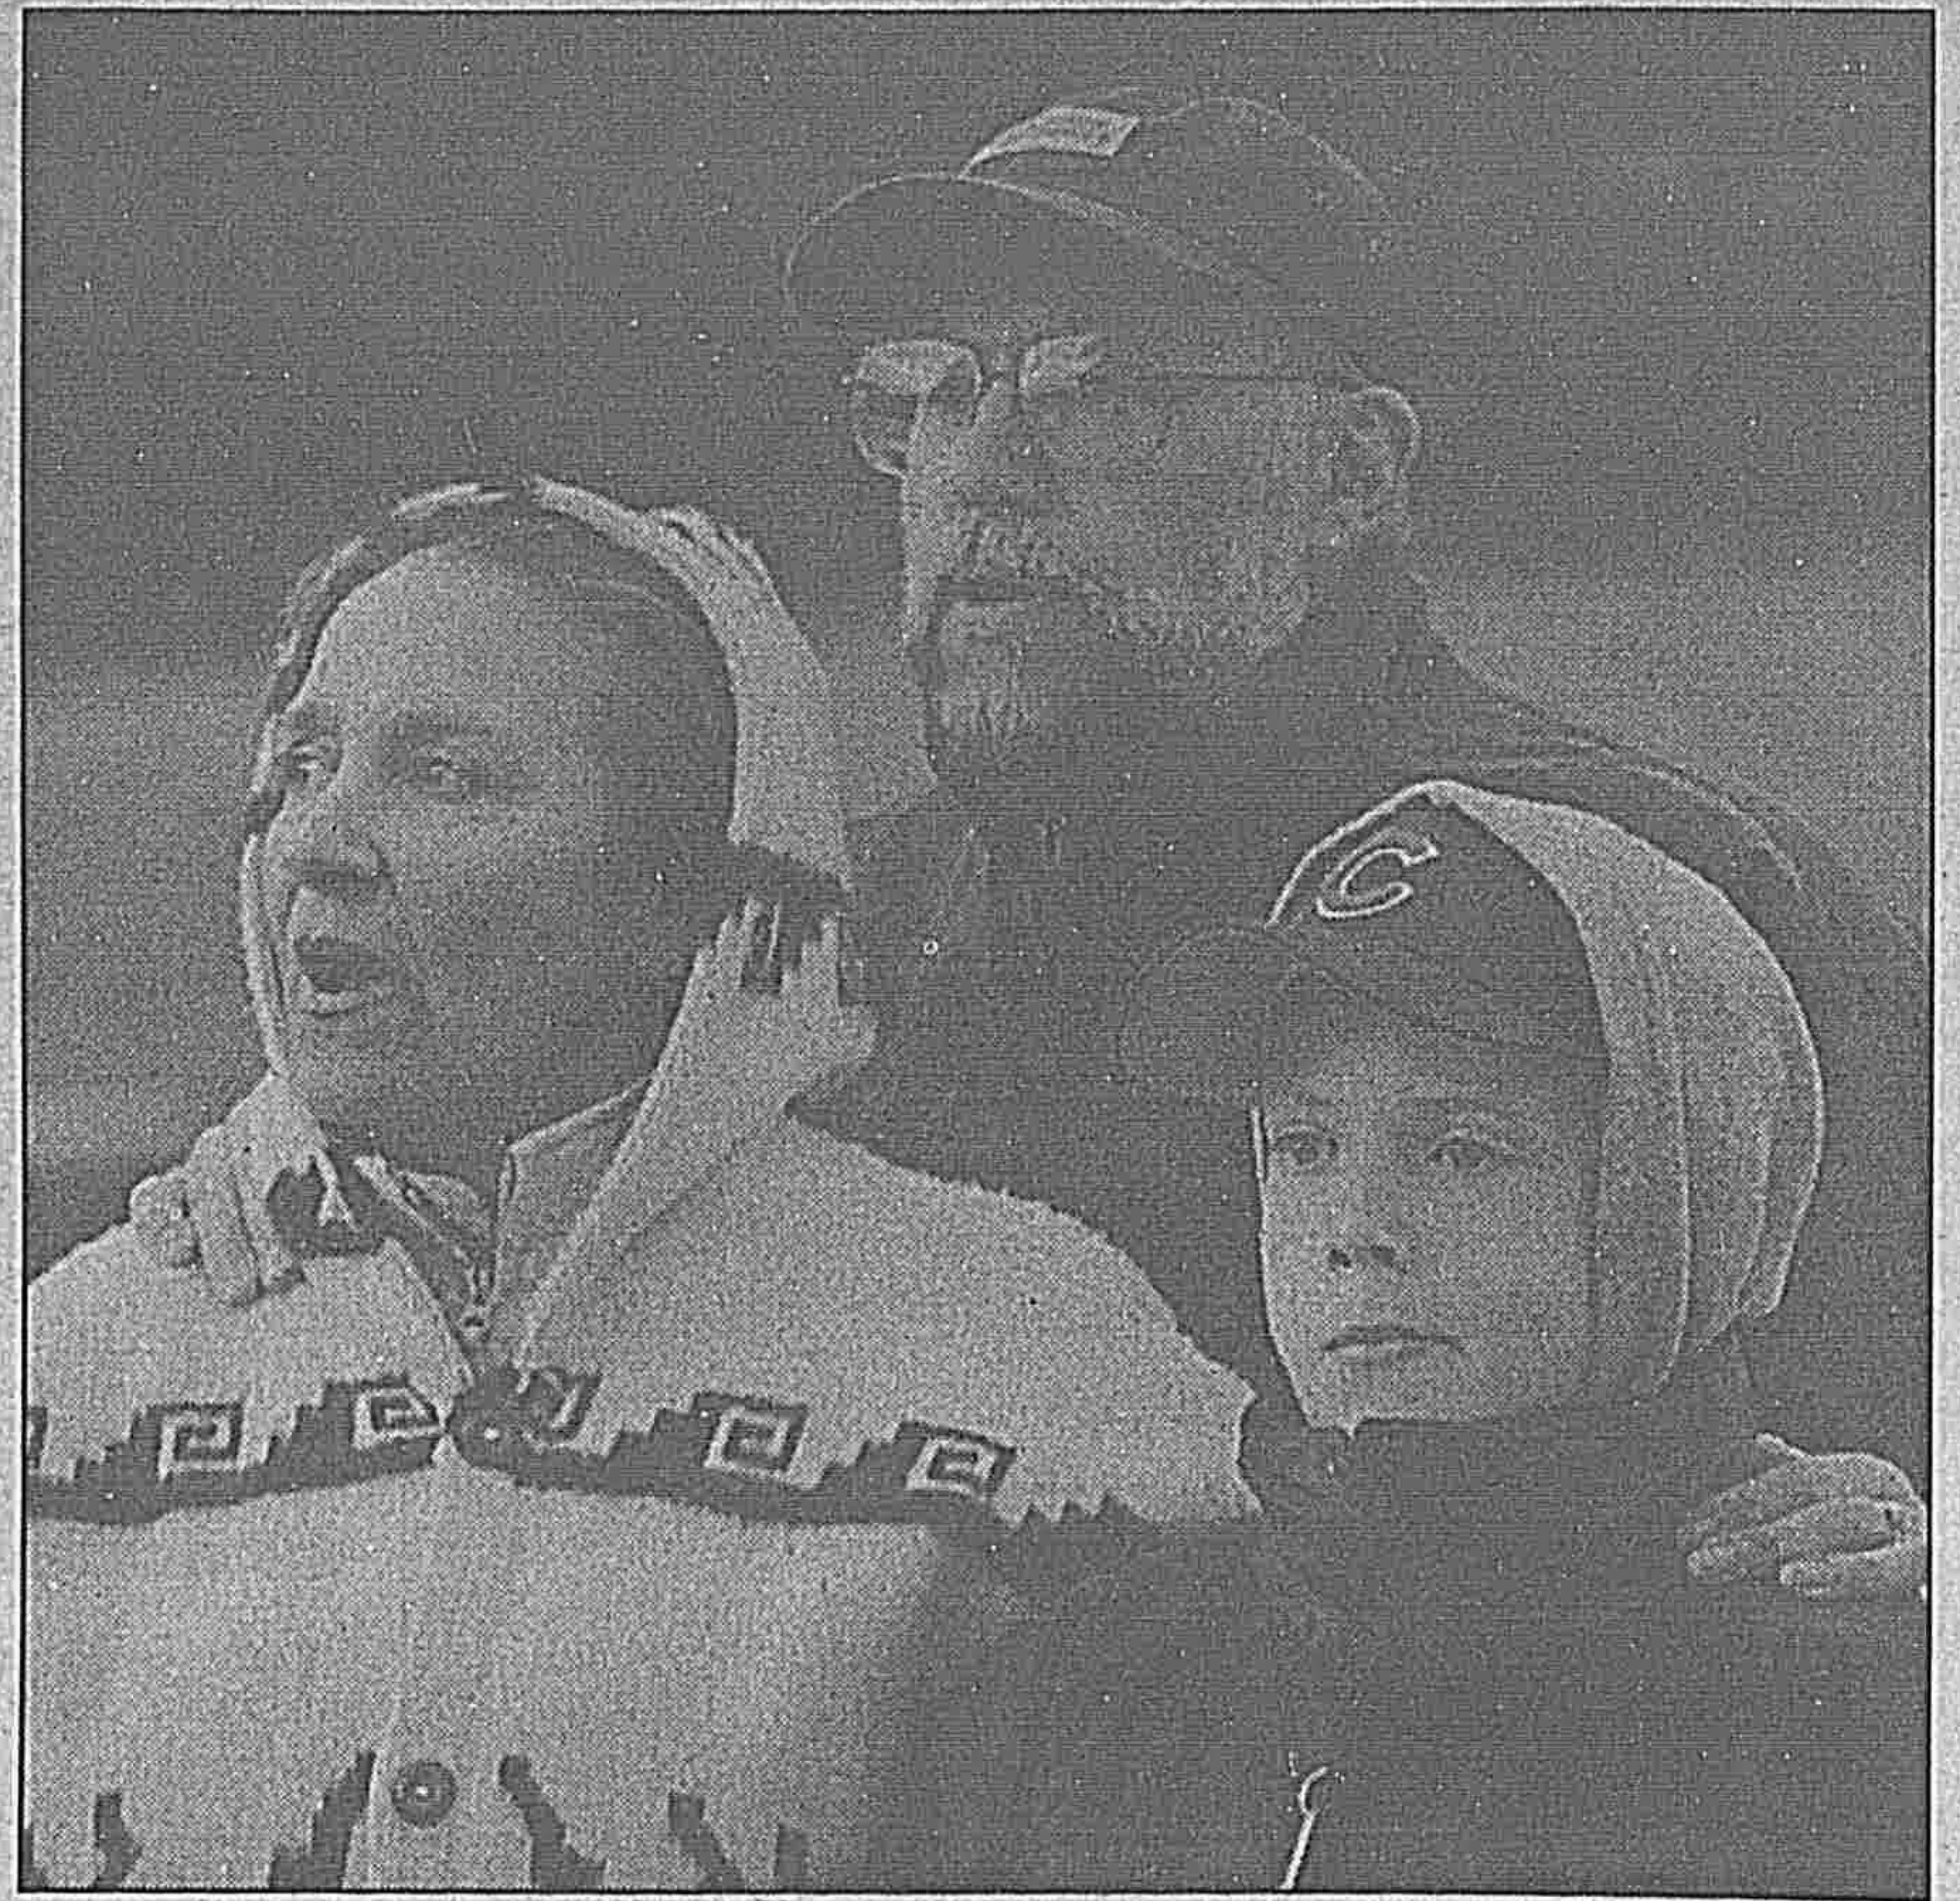

Specials for "cruisers" include single cones, root beer floats or hot dogs for $1.

If you have interesting information or anecdotes to submit for "Our Town" call staff reporter Julie Murphy at 847-223-8161, ext. 600 or e-mail, moorfie@ix.netcom.com

Mike Olhava, of Hebron, Ill., will be guest speaker. Olhava is a representative for Southern Wisconsin Full Gospel Businessmen's Fellowship International.

Olhava will discuss how two events changed his life. He said in the early days

FACTS ABOUT BUNIONS

Both men and women can develop a bunion. A bunion is a swelling or enlargement of the large toe joint on the inner side of the foot. The deformity usually develops gradually and continues to develop until it will cause pain from shoes rubbing against the enlarged bone. There may be swelling, redness and a deep aching pain associated with the bunion joint causing a bursitis.

Bunions develop from a weakness in the bone structure of your foot. Because the instability of the bones and ligaments which form various joints and arches in your foot, the joints have a tendency to move out of proper alignment. There is also a strong hereditary tendency to develop this deformity. Bunion deformities can be seen in very young children as well as the adult population. Bunions are not caused by improper shoe gear, but are significantly aggravated by improperly fitting shoes which place an unusual degree of pressure at the bunion joint. As the bunion becomes more severe, the joint moves out of proper alignment and eventually arthritis will damage the joint. Several treatment options are available which help in controlling the cause of the bunion deformity so that symptoms do not arise or become more severe. These include alteration of shoe gear, prescription orthotics. If the bunion deformity becomes progressively worse, surgery may be recommended. If you are suffering from this condition, feel free to contact Dr. Lee Tisa for a no-cost consultation to discuss your condition.

Making a difference, one child at a time

ANNON FRICILONE
Reporter

Being a single parent isn't easy, that is why Big Brothers Big Sisters of Lake County exists. The program was founded to bridge the gap of single parenthood and ensure children receive the individual attention they need. Individual attention is hard for any parent to give, even harder to give when working several jobs to support their fam-

Big Brothers Big Sisters of America (BBBSA) has remained the expert in youth mentoring since its founding in 1904. In 1977 the Big Brothers and Big Sisters organizations merged into Big Brothers Big Sisters of America and the national headquarters was established in Philadelphia.

Probably the most known program that Big Brothers Big Sisters of Lake County has is their Core Program, a program that brings children and adults together in a one-to-one relationship.

But, Big Brothers Big Sisters of Lake County has a lot more to offer area youths.

The High School mentoring program matches students from Lake County high schools with children in elementary and middle schools.

Typically, a group of about 25 high school students spend a few hours one afternoon per week at a partnering school interacting with their matches by playing games, sharing a snack, tutoring, reading books and talking.

"The beauty about the small group programs is that they meet individually every week in the same building," said Big Brothers Big Sisters of Lake County staff member Audrey Glenn.

According to Coordinator of the High School Mentoring Program, Jessica Forsyth, the goal of the program is to benefit the community through assisting a significant number of at-risk children that might otherwise experience a more negative outcome.

Elementary school teachers and counselors from around Lake County refer the students to the program based on the presence of risk factors and the perceived ability of the child to benefit from the program.

"This program is seen as you are very lucky if you get to be a part of it," said Forsyth. "It is seen as a very positive thing among the 'Littles' (the students)."

Because the program is so popular and because there are only a limited number of spaces, not everyone gets into the

Kevin Meaney

Three comedians together at the Laughter Arts Festival

Three of stand-up's hottest comedians come to Centre East for two nights of non-stop laughter. Richard Lewis, Wendy Liebman and Kevin Meaney headline the Laughter Arts Festival, Friday, May 17 and Saturday, May 18 at 8 p.m. Centre East is located in North Shore Center for the Performing Arts, 9501 Skokie Blvd. in Skokie.

Richard Lewis' life-long collection of therapy-fodder has proved key to his hysterical blend of self-analysis and pointed musings. His candid observations of his brilliantly warped world have won Lewis acclaim as "the Franz Kafka of modern-day comedy." Currently Lewis appears as Rabbi Glass on the WB's hit show "7th Heaven" and has a recurring guest star role as one of Larry David's closest friends in the "Seinfeld" co-creator's HBO series, "Curb Your Enthusiasm." Recently out in paperback on Plume Books, a division of Penguin Putnam, Inc. is Lewis' autobiographical book, "The OTHER Great Depression." He has also starred in many HBO specials and has made numerous television and film appearances, most notably opposite Jamie Lee Curtis in ABC's series "Anything But Love" and with Nicholas Cage and Elizabeth Shue in "Leaving Las Vegas."

Wendy Liebman's trademark delivery of the one-liner with the subliminal afterthought has earned her recognition on the national stage. She has performed her uniquely timed style of stand-up comedy since 1984 and has appeared on "The Late Show with David Letterman," "The Tonight Show with Jay Leno," and "Politically Incorrect with Bill Maher." Liebman also appeared on the first "Rosie O'Donnell Show," where O'Donnell introduced her as "the funniest female comedian on the circuit." In 1997, the American Comedy Awards named Liebman "Best Female Stand-Up Comic."

Kevin Meaney's madcap humor, punctuated by his signature catch phrase "That's not right," draws on his experiences growing up in the center of a zany Irish-Catholic family. A self-proclaimed "ham," Meaney honed his comedy on the San Francisco circuit with other 'Class of 1980' graduates including Robin Williams, Paula Poundstone, Dana Carvey and Kevin Nealon. His recent credits include starring in his own half-hour comedy special for Comedy Central and opening on Broadway for friend Jerry Seinfeld.

Tickets are $42 and free parking is available. For tickets or more information call the Centre East box office at 847-673-6300.

Wild Ones present 'Gardening of birds and butterflies'

Monday, May 13 at 7:15 p.m., Lake-to-Prairie Wild Ones will present Marian Thill, who will give a slide presentation showing how to create a tempting habitat for wildlife. The public is invited to attend. Wild Ones is a not-for-profit organization that promotes use of native plants in landscaping.

Thill's focus will be the homeowner who does not necessarily have a large amount of property but wishes to attract birds and butterflies. Mostly native plants are incorporated into her plan. Native plants have the advantage of requiring less maintenance and being less prone to insects, diseases and the sometimes-challenging weather conditions of the Midwest summer.

Thill became a Master Gardener through the Chicago Botanic Garden and is a certified naturalist through the Morton Arboretum. Her yard has been certified as a Wildlife Habitat through the National Wildlife Federation, and all of her gardening is focused on maintaining the habitat for wildlife.

Thill's theme is, "If you invite them, they'll come." She believes that if every homeowner could give one little corner of the yard to wildlife a vine, a berry bush—it could lessen the negative impact that development has on an area.

This presentation is free. Handouts and catalogs will be available for those who attend as well as information on joining the organization.

The program will be held at the Byron Colby Barn at Prairie Crossing located at the west side of Route 45, one-half mile south of Route 120 in Grayslake. For more information call 847-548-1650.

Water's Edge School invites families to May Faire

Water's Edge School in Wauconda welcomes all to its May Faire on Saturday, May 11 from 2-5 p.m. The event will feature children's activities; puppet show, storytelling, a pocket lady with a pocketful of surprises for little ones, live music, song and dance, refreshments, plant sale and a traditional May Pole dance outdoors on the school grounds.

Water's Edge school is located at 200 Barrington Rd. in Wauconda, at the intersection of Rt. 176 and Barrington Road in the upstairs of the Federated School of Wauconda.

The school is currently accepting enrollment for the 2002-03 school year offering a Preschool/Kindergarten class for 3 1/2-to-6 year-olds, and a Parent/Child program for ages 18 months to three years.

Waldorf Education is the fastest growing independent school movement in the world fostering the desire to learn from within; offering a balanced, comprehensive hands on education in an artistic environment. Based on the philosophies of Rudolph Steiner, Waldorf aims to educate the whole child—head, hands and heart. The school is nonprofit and nonsectarian, welcoming all children regardless of race, sex, religion, culture or economic status. For further information regarding enrollment or the May Faire, call the school at 847-526-1372.

'Damn Yankees' scoring big

Marriott Theater production knocking 'em dead

By DENYS BUCKSTEN
Lake County Editor

The Marriott Theater in Lincolnshire production of the Broadway classic, "Damn Yankees," started fast and is delving into weekends sold out.

The musical follows Joe Boyd, a middle-aged fan of the woeful 1950s Washington Senators, who makes a deal with the devil to become the team's leading hitter and lift the team into first place.

With a heart-pounding musical score booming from a new sound system, Bob Fosse-inspired choreography, first-rate acting and an intimate, 882-seat, in-the-round auditorium, word-of-mouth on the production is growing.

The show, 2 1/2 hours, runs through June 23.

The sound at Marriott is sensational, with a major sound system upgrade as part of the theater's $250,000 renovation last year.

Although "Damn Yankees" is a bit dated, the baseball theme, period settings and energy of the musical are hard to resist.

A 9-piece orchestra is seated in a glass-enclosed, soundproof room behind the back row, stage left, with director Patti Garwood watching the action on stage.

"Damn Yankees" stars Dirk Lumbard as Mr. Applegate, the devil incarnate and somewhat foppish and Mary MacLeod as Lola, the devil's sultry siren. Applegate and Lola get Joe Boyd to sign a deal for his soul, but with an "out clause" upon which the plot hinges.

Sean Alan Krill plays the athletic, young Joe Boyd, and Don Forston the middle-aged, married Boyd.

Musical numbers found a receptive audience with recognizable favorites, including "Whatever Lola Wants, Lola Gets," and "You Gotta Have Heart."

Lumbard's Applegate draws one of the biggest laughs of the musical right after curvaceous Lola lures young Joe off to the side and sings "Whatever Lola Wants" — but is dismayed when Joe, regretting his deal with the devil and thinking of his wife Meg (Paula Scrofano), does resist and exits, stage right, leaving a stunned Lola.

Applegate, appearing stage left, derisively mimics "Whatever Lola Wants, Lola Gets." For ticket information call 847-634-0200.

Donations needed 'Wheels and Keels' auction

Have you dragged your boat out of storage yet this year? Not sure you want to hassle with the upkeep, maintenance and storage again? If not, donate it to the "Wheels and Keels" auction.

Here's how: Your donation becomes live auction proceeds, which then become quality housing, camp and retreat opportunities for hundreds of disabled youth and adults. Contributions to the ministry are tax-deductible.

Cars will be added to this year's auction. The May 25 event will start at 10 a.m. As in years past, boats of all shapes and sizes are being donated including powerboats, sailboats, jet skis, rowboats, and pontoon boats. Currently over 35 boats and 15 cars have been donated.

If interested in donating, contact Jon Troast or Erik Barber at Inspiration Ministries at 262-275-6131. Inspiration Ministries is located at the corner of Highway 67 and County F in Walworth, Wis.

Prairie Crossing Gazebo concert series presents

Rollin' and Tumblin' duo

Rollin' and Tumblin' is an acoustic blues duo consisting of James Fraher, guitar/vocals, and John Jochem, harmonica/vocals. Drawing upon musical influences of the Carolinas, gritty Texas-based stylings and the soulful sound of the Mississippi Delta, the duo brings to life the early origins of blues and rock and roll; listen for joyous Chicago shuffles, slow blues of lost love and protest, upbeat instrumentals, slide-guitar moans, harmonica jump tunes, a bit of gospel and some Tin Pan Alley.

The concert is Friday, May 10 at 8 p.m. Admission is $10 for adults at the gate; children are free.

The Prairie Crossing community is in Grayslake, one-half mile north of Route 137 on the west side of Route 45. For more information call 847-543-1202.

Some of the risk factors for a child to be a part of and benefit from the program include: poor school attendance, poor school performance, poor social skills, inability to identify and express emotions, poor decision making skills, conflict within the family, frequent location to new communities, low self-esteem, low income level and coming from a single parent home.

"The program is very popular at the high school and we usually have plenty of mentors," said Forsyth.

High School mentors are recruited from area high school's and formally accepted for the program based on references from school staff as well as a personal interview with a BBBS case manager and a training program.

"Libertyville High School has two different programs because there were so many kids that wanted to volunteer," said Forsyth.

According to Forsyth, High School mentors meet with their "Littles" weekly for about an hour and a half. The high school students plan the activities for each week in conjunction with a BBBS case manager.

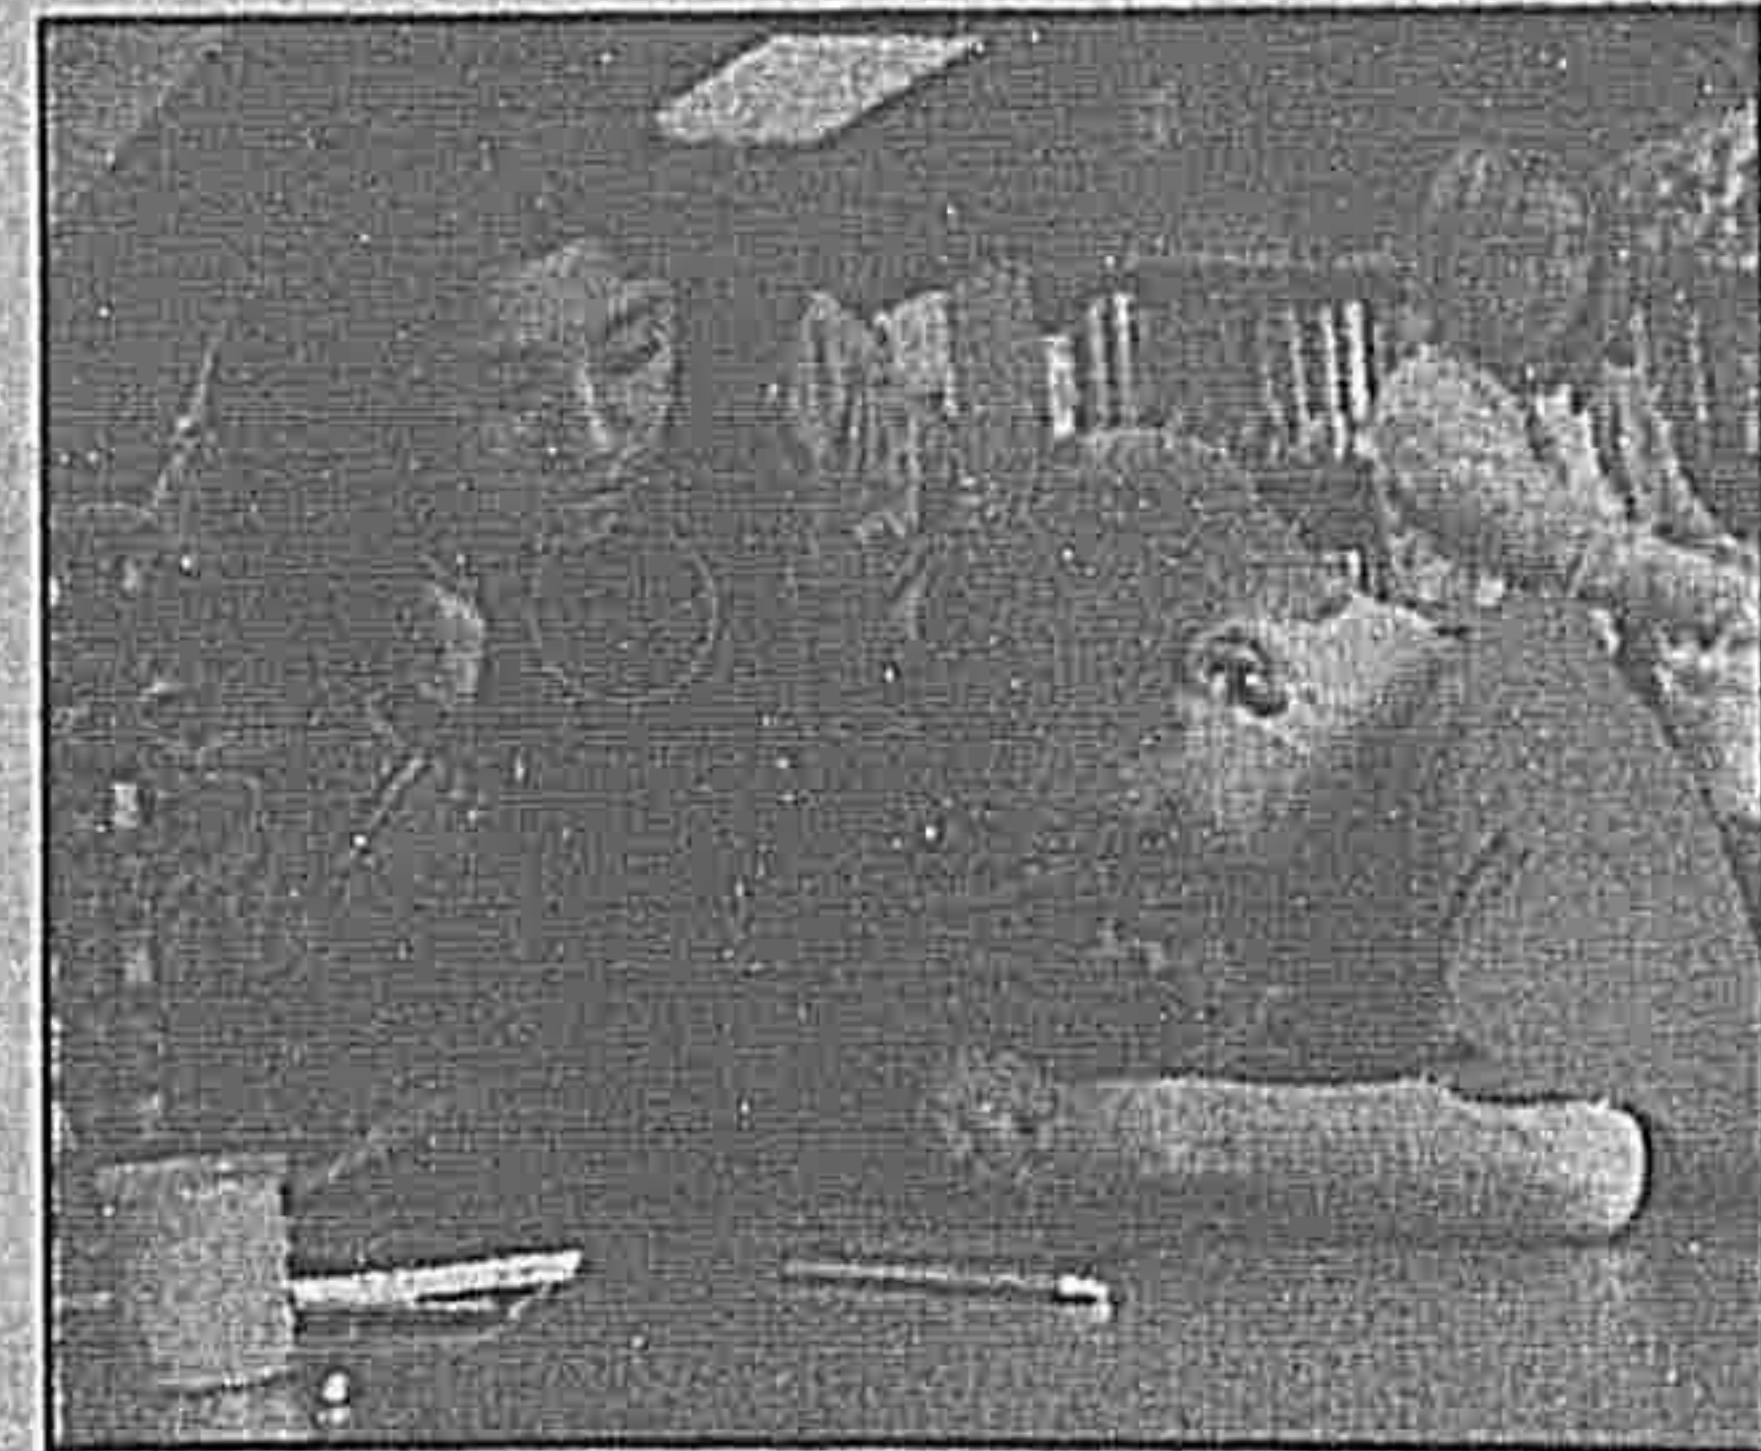

"The high school students go to the elementary schools after school and spend the afternoon with the children," said Forsyth. "It is great to see the response from the matches, they really take away a lot from each other."

The program also gives the opportunity for the "Littles" to be exposed to high school through activities such as field trips to the high school to attend plays, sporting events, debates or just to join their mentor for lunch.

Big Brothers Big Sisters of Lake County is continuously creating new programs to meet the needs of the community.

Emerging programs include site-based mentoring programs opportunities that match adults (Bigs) with children (Littles) at their schools during a free period, lunch or after school.

One of the programs match children with residents of the Maravilla Retirement Community in Vernon Hills.

Big Brothers/Big Sisters of Lake County pairs high school students with grade school students to help with homework, make craft projects and play games once a week.— Photo by Sandy Bressner

One day a week, after school, BBBS busses students to the retirement community where they spend a couple of hours talking to their senior match, playing games and having a good time.

While another matches boys with members of the Barat College basketball team and another matches employees of Abbot and Baxter laboratories with students.

Studies have shown that Little Brothers and Sisters who meet regularly with their Big Brothers and Sisters are 46 percent less likely to start using illegal drugs, 27 percent less likely to drink alcohol, 52 percent less likely to skip school, 32 percent less likely to commit violent acts and 37 percent less likely to lie to their parents.

Volunteers go through an in-depth screening process that includes interviews, references, a background check, application review, auto insurance verification, a home visit and orientation and training.

If you are interested in volunteering for Big Brothers Big Sisters of Lake County or would like to get your child involved call BBBS at 847-360-0770.

Eroticism, surprise, shock and delight are four guilty pleasures you might indulge in as you watch "Unfaithful." The placid calm of a pond completes the idyllic setting for the beautiful country house of Edward and Connie Sumner (Richard Gere and Diane Lane). This tranquillity and orderliness is punctuated by a strong wind that literally blows everything off-course, and ultimately twists these lives to the breaking point.

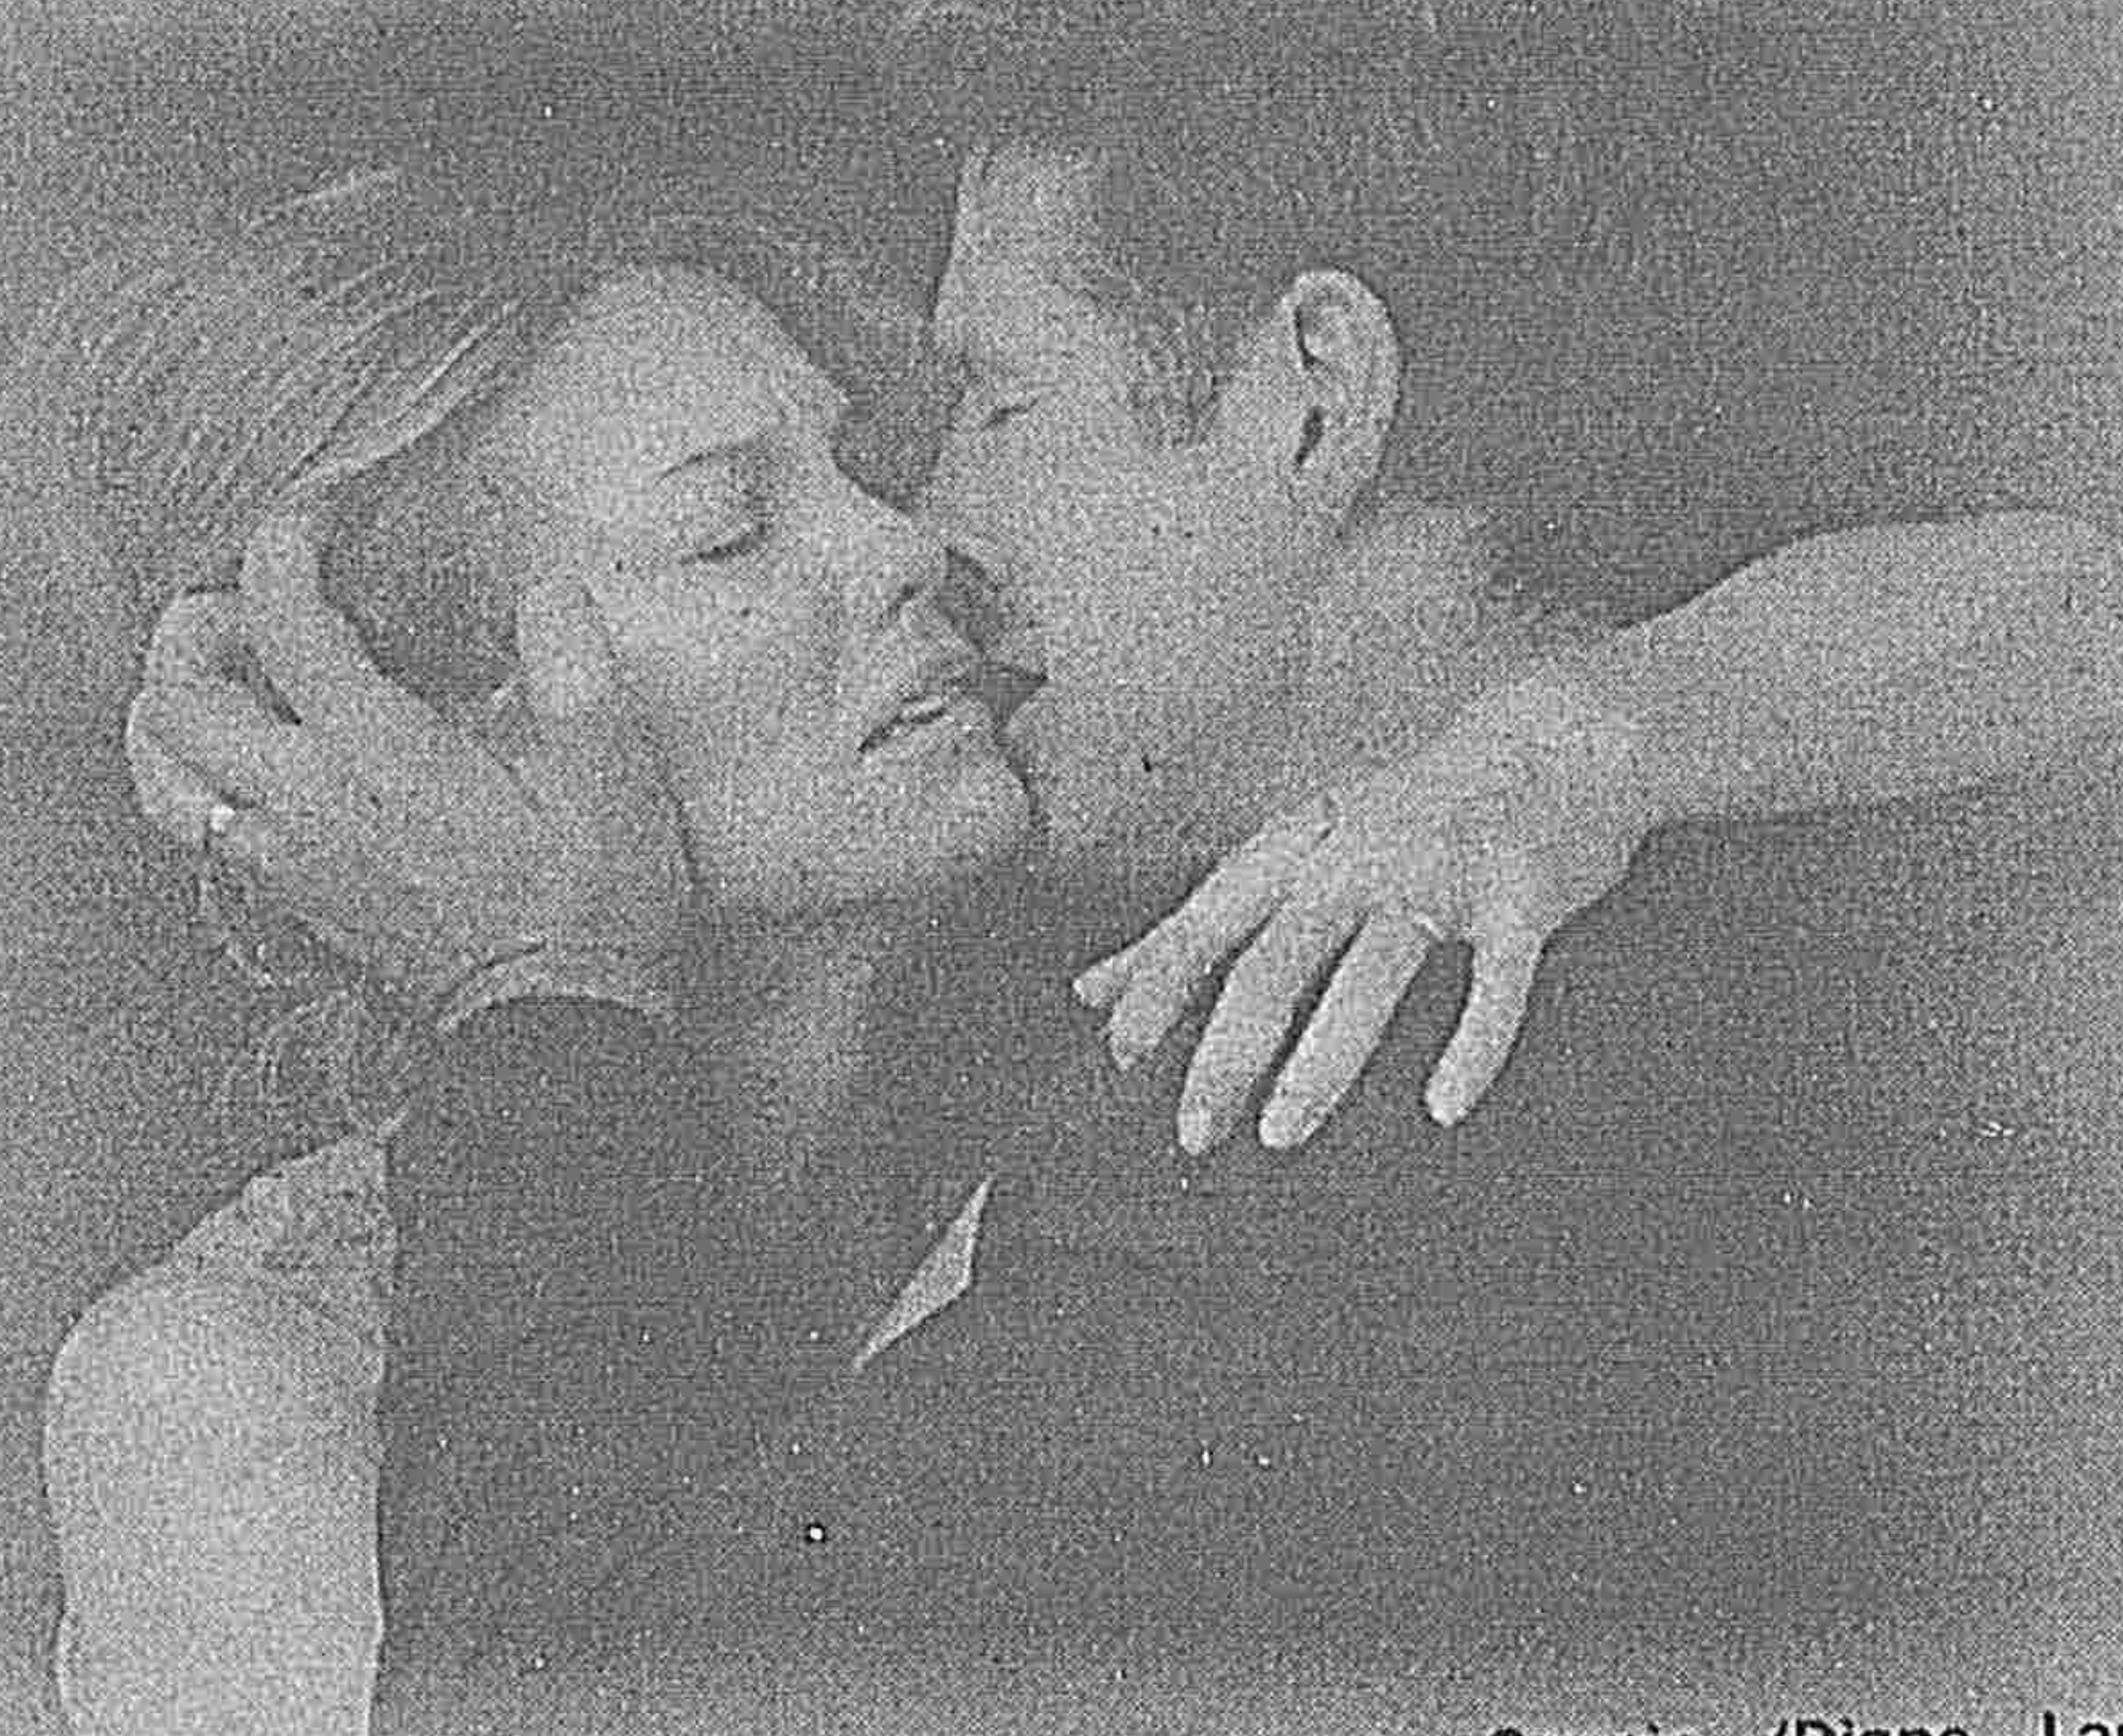

Edward and Connie have an eight-year-old son, Charlie (Erik Per Sullivan of TV's "Malcolm in the Middle"), who needs to be reminded to raise the toilet seat. We look on as the nurturing, take-charge Mom he's used to disappears (overcome by obsession).

On a blustery day, when the wind seems to be at gale force on the streets of New York, Connie, with packages in tow and trying to hail a cab, collides with Paul (Olivier Martinez, "Before Night Falls") in front of his Soho loft. He offers her bandages for her scraped knees. His disarming good looks and charm win her over and she agrees to go up to his apartment. Paul Martel is a young book dealer, 28, Connie discovers, as compared with her 40ish status. He is from France and is subletting a friend's loft. Paul's books share the studied clutter with sculptures done by his friend. As a token, Paul offers Connie a book of poetry as she retreats when she realizes he's attempting to seduce her.

The seduction works. A few days later she's in Grand Central Station phoning Paul with the pretext of wanting to thank him. One of the most erotic scenes on film plays out when Paul and Connie have their first encounter. Diane Lane gives a no-holds-barred performance as a tentative and trembling, guilt-ridden wife, embarking on an affair, quickly consumed by a torrent of passion. Martinez' Paul is a master game player, anticipating every move of his partner.

An ill wind blows

UNFAITHFUL

Rating

Rated R for sexuality, language and a scene of violence

Director

Adrian Lyne

Starring

Richard Gere
Diane Lane
Olivier Martinez

As Connie becomes obsessed with the affair, she takes careless risks and becomes possessive of Paul. A chance meeting with friends in a Soho coffee shop provides one of the film's funnier moments of guilty pleasure.

Husband Edward, meanwhile, is beginning to have suspicions. He and Connie have been married eleven years and there's a certain harmony to the relationship that's off-key. A private detective is hired by Edward to follow his wife. Summer Armored Trucks is the company Edward owns and an inkling of his temper is revealed when he fires Bill Stone (Chad Lowe) on the spot for talking with Brinks.

Armed with evidence, pictures of Connie and Paul together, Edward confronts Paul at his apartment. The two men begin a strained conversation, where it becomes clear that Edward is devastated. Gere allows us to almost experience the physical pain he feels, which leads to a psychological break, when he discovers a gift that his wife has given to Paul. Exactly what happens at that moment may be open to interpretation, within legal parameters. (Note: What happens in the moments following we choose not to reveal. We consider it a spoiler.) Richard Gere said, after reading the script, "I've always been interested in the idea that we're all unknowable to each other."

The acting is exceptional in this film, as well as the script, the photography and the design. It simply looks sensational. We liked the juxtaposition of scenes involving violence or eroticism, played against the quiet, ordinary goings-on of a school play or Thanksgiving dinner. Stark contrasts of tone, the dark suits of commuters against a gray sky, or the torn white plastic at the garbage dump flailing across a darkened landscape, are usually seen in black and white films. The sharpness of color and framing for the last shot of the film are pure artistry.

"Unfaithful" is a densely textured film. Everyone will have a bit of a thread they'll want to cling to and discuss with friends. Director Adrian Lyne has loosely based this screenplay on "La Femme Infidèle," a 1968 film by French New Wave director Claude Chabrol. Lyne describes this film as "an erotic thriller about the body language of guilt." He should know; he also brought audiences "Fatal Attraction" and "Lolita."

HOROSCOPE

Aries - March 21/April 20

Many people are feeling lazy this week but not you, Aries. This is where you have an edge over the competition. Let your energy level work to your advantage at the office.

Taurus - April 21/May 21

You're feeling abrasive and incompatible, Taurus. Nothing seems to fit or work right this week. A treasured memory has gone sour and you need the support of close friends.

Gemini - May 22/June 21

You shine in partnerships and small groups, Gemini, so your work relationships will go on without a hitch this week. Expect much praise for your efforts — you deserve it.

Cancer - June 22/July 22

Instead of giving a new idea or method a fair chance, you've cast it aside without further thought. Your inability to laugh at your mistakes, Cancer, does not fare well with your relationships.

Leo - July 23/August 23

Stop causing a commotion, Leo, the other party involved has already agreed to your request. While outside you show your fierce roar, inside beats the heart of a kitten.

Virgo - Aug 24/Sept 22

You're driven by honesty and efficiency, Virgo, and often "say it like it is." While your straightforwardness can be commended, fragile people can be hurt by you.

Libra - Sept 23/Oct 23

This week you could find yourself connecting with the person of your dreams. Thursday evening seems most promising. The spotlight continues to shine on you positively.

Scorpio - Oct 24/Nov 22

You don't care if you're rude or clumsy this week, Scorpio. Nothing will stand in the way of your objective. You may think you're moving forward, but you may just be running away.

Sagittarius - Nov 23/Dec 21

You're called on an adventure, Sagittarius, and you're definitely up for the challenge. Take Aries on the journey for a truly memorable time. This pairing is sure to produce many sparks and lively conversation.

Capricorn - Dec 22/Jan 20

An attempt to rekindle a former relationship will not lead to positive ends. The river flows in only one direction, and in this situation, it's not yours. Seek solace in friends and family.

Aquarius - Jan 21/Feb 18

You live by impulse and profit by your own natural brilliance, Aquarius. This week you continue to shine with both work and personal affairs. Ride the wave of fortune.

Pisces - Feb 19/March 20

Celebrate your appetite for mischief with others who share the same sensibilities. You feel free to speak your mind and find many with the same views, especially a love match

Bradley offers summer enrichment programs for high school students

Acquaint students with nursing, physical therapy and teaching professions

Bradley University, in Peoria will offer three one-week enrichment programs for high school juniors and seniors in June on campus.

The programs in nursing, physical therapy and teaching are designed to acquaint students with the many aspects of those professions through a variety of experiences stressing hands-on participation. Participants will stay in Bradley residence halls where each room is equipped with a personal computer, printer and software.

The enrichment programs will begin on Sunday, June 16 and conclude on Saturday, June 22. The cost of $325 includes six nights lodging, meals, entertainment and program costs. Applications are available on the Bradley web site at www.bradley.edu/ccd/summerenrichment. The deadline to register is June 1 although early applications are encouraged, as space in the programs is limited.

Participants in the nursing program will observe and interact with nurses in practice settings such as critical care, rehabilitation, obstetrical, medical, surgical and mental health units. The Bradley nursing laboratory will be used to practice cardiopulmonary resuscitation and nursing assessment techniques. Programs and tours will be held in clinical facilities in the Peoria area.

The teaching program will give participants the opportunity to assist and observe in classes designed for students age five through twelve and explore careers in early childhood, elementary, special and secondary education.

The Physical Therapy/Health Science program will introduce students to the physical therapy profession as well as other related health care careers. Participants will interact with physical therapists in a variety of real and mock practice environments and will include tours of several health care facilities.

For more information about the summer enrichment programs at Bradley, call the Program Coordinator at 309-677-2404 or visit the program web page at www.bradley.edu/ccd/summerenrichment.

Hats off to mothers

How many hats does a mother wear? Too many to mention! A mother wears the hats of a cook, laundress, counselor, chauffeur, nurse, maid, teacher, and numerous others.

Thoughts on being a mom

"If it was going to be easy to raise kids, it never would have started with something called labor."

"Children are a great comfort in your old age; they help you reach it faster too."

Let's face it, without our mom's none of us would be here!

What does a mom do all day?

I remember a funny cartoon on motherhood that I saw many years ago. A husband arrived home from a hard day's work. Stepping over piles of laundry he made his way to the kitchen. He thought it strange that there was no aroma of dinner in the air. As he entered the kitchen he found his twin boys still in their pajamas playing in the dog food spilled all over the floor.

The sink was piled high with dishes. His wife still in her robe was reading the newspaper at the table cluttered with food leftover from breakfast.

Bewildered, the husband asked, "Honey, what's going on?" "Well, dear," she replied, "Every day you come home from work and ask me what I did all day. Well, today I didn't do it!"

'The Handprints'

Handprints on the walls. What's a mother to do? When my son Ryan was in kindergarten he brought home a paper with his fingerprints in a design resembling pussywillows. Next to the design was a poem:

The Handprint

Sometimes you get discouraged
Because I am so small
And always leave my fingerprints
On furniture and walls.

But every day I'm growing
I'll be all grown up someday
And those tiny little handprints

NEWS-WORTHY

Sharon Westbrook

Will surely fade away.

So here's a special handprint
Just so you will recall
Exactly how my fingers looked
When I was very small.

'The Joys Of Motherhood'

When motherhood is wearing you out, stop and reflect on the joys of being a mother. Write down the funny things your children say. I remember my daughter Kristi reciting "Mary had a little lamb, its 'fleas' were white as snow."

I was blessed to have my mother come to help me after the birth of each of my three children. With a newborn in the house meal-times can be very busy. It seems like as soon as you sit down to eat the baby cries and wants to eat too.

One day my mother and I were rushing to get lunch on the table as the baby was sleeping. We filled everyone's plates and began to eat. Russell, my 5-year-old, gently reminded us that we forgot to pray. Grandma asked him if he would say the prayer. He began, "Dear God, thank you for this food and sorry we're in such a rush. Amen."

Mother of it all

Sunday, May 12th is Mother's Day. Thank your mother for instilling the values that made you the person you are today. Also remember other significant people in your life that helped you to be a better mom. Hats off to all mothers everywhere! Have a very Happy Mother's Day!!

Readers with information for "News-Worthy" should call Sharon Westbrook at 847-395-3079.

Buffalo Grove firefighters Mike Boyd (left) and Dave Kelly instruct Buffalo Grove G.C. Director of Golf Carmen Molinaro on the proper use of an automatic external defibrillator (AED). The Village of Buffalo Grove has purchased these life-saving devices for its use on Buffalo Grove and Arboretum golf courses this season.

Stroke savers

With the crazy golfers we have around these parts, it's easy to overlook weather elements. Especially when they're having that career-round.

But say a golfer goes into cardiac arrest and is suffering a heart attack on the course, whether it is from the extreme heat or a lightning strike.

Area golf courses generally have had their bases covered with close ties with the local police and fire departments being only minutes away.

"All of our employee's also take CPR training courses," said Sam Zicarelli, director of golf at Carillon North in Grayslake.

But that extra minute can be crucial, if not life threatening.

So to minimize that margin of error, many courses have equipped their pro shops with automatic external defibrillators (AED's).

"We don't have the AED's right now. But I know bigger courses have them because they have a lot more play," added Zicarelli.

Two tracks that have added AED's to their arsenal include The Arboretum Club and Buffalo Grove, both Village of Buffalo Grove courses.

"Our staff participates in CPR training each year but having the AED's gives the golfers the peace of mind that if anything catastrophic should happen, they know we are properly equipped to save their life," said Carmen Molinaro, director of golf at Buffalo Grove G.C.

According to Condell Director of Sports Medicine Larry Scire, that extra minute can be fatal.

"You're extending the window of opportunity where saving a life is concerned," he said. "CPR is good because it gets the blood pumping to the brain. But while in cardiac arrest, the heart is unstable and fluctuating. Blood going to the brain is vital but doesn't necessarily mean it's converting the heart rate, or rhythm of the heart."

What an AED does is it converts an unstable heartbeat back to normal rhythm. Most of the AED's are hand-held devices equipped with full instructions.

And if the person isn't responding to the AED, which can take up to three shocks, continue doing CPR. Obviously, one of the first steps though is to call 911.

"We hope that all golf courses, public or private, are equipped with these life-saving devices in the very near future," added Molinaro.

As a golfer for the past 30 years, I certainly hope so.

I'd take a triple-bogey anytime in lieu of a heart attack anytime.

The Grayslake Park District is participating in the Hershey track and field competition. The event will take place on Saturday, May 18 at the Grayslake High School track. Ages are from 9-14, and the event will start at 9 a.m. The rain date is June 1. For more information, call the park district at 847-223-7529.

Sequoit softball has eyes on Mundelein

By JOE PRUSKI
Correspondent

The Antioch High School softball team is two wins away from a share of the conference championship. The only problem is, they have to beat conference-leading Mundelein. Twice.

Antioch currently stands at 14-7 overall and a 6-2 record in the North Suburban Lake Division. Their only two losses in conference came last week at the hands of Stevenson. Stevenson is 8-2 in the league with its only losses coming to guess whom, Mundelein.

In Antioch's two games against the Pats last week, both ended in 1-0 losses, with the second loss going eight innings.

"Both were really close games," said Antioch head coach Jen Schultz. "We're right there with Stevenson, the games were just a flip of the coin."

Antioch defeated Warren in both games of a doubleheader earlier in the week. Antioch won the first 7-3 before prevailing 8-2 in the nightcap.

Pitcher Kristen Elstrom got the win in both games for Antioch, improving her record to 11-5.

Antioch has gotten solid hitting this season from Lindsey Gruber, Carolyn Cooley, and Laura Weber. They have also been getting strong defensive support from Amanda Pollitt in center field and Jackie Schmidt in left.

This weekend, Antioch will travel up to Wisconsin to play in a four-team tournament against schools in Wisconsin. This is the team's first time playing in the Grafton Tournament.

Antioch will then travel to Mundelein May 14 for the first of two showdowns with the Mustangs. The Sequoits hosting Mundelein at Polley Field May 16 beginning at 4:30 p.m. will follow that.

A former Mundelein assistant coach before coming to Antioch two years ago, Schultz still has ties to Mundelein, which make the games all that much more meaningful.

"There are still some kids that I taught when they were younger and some kids I coached that play on the team now," said

Schultz.

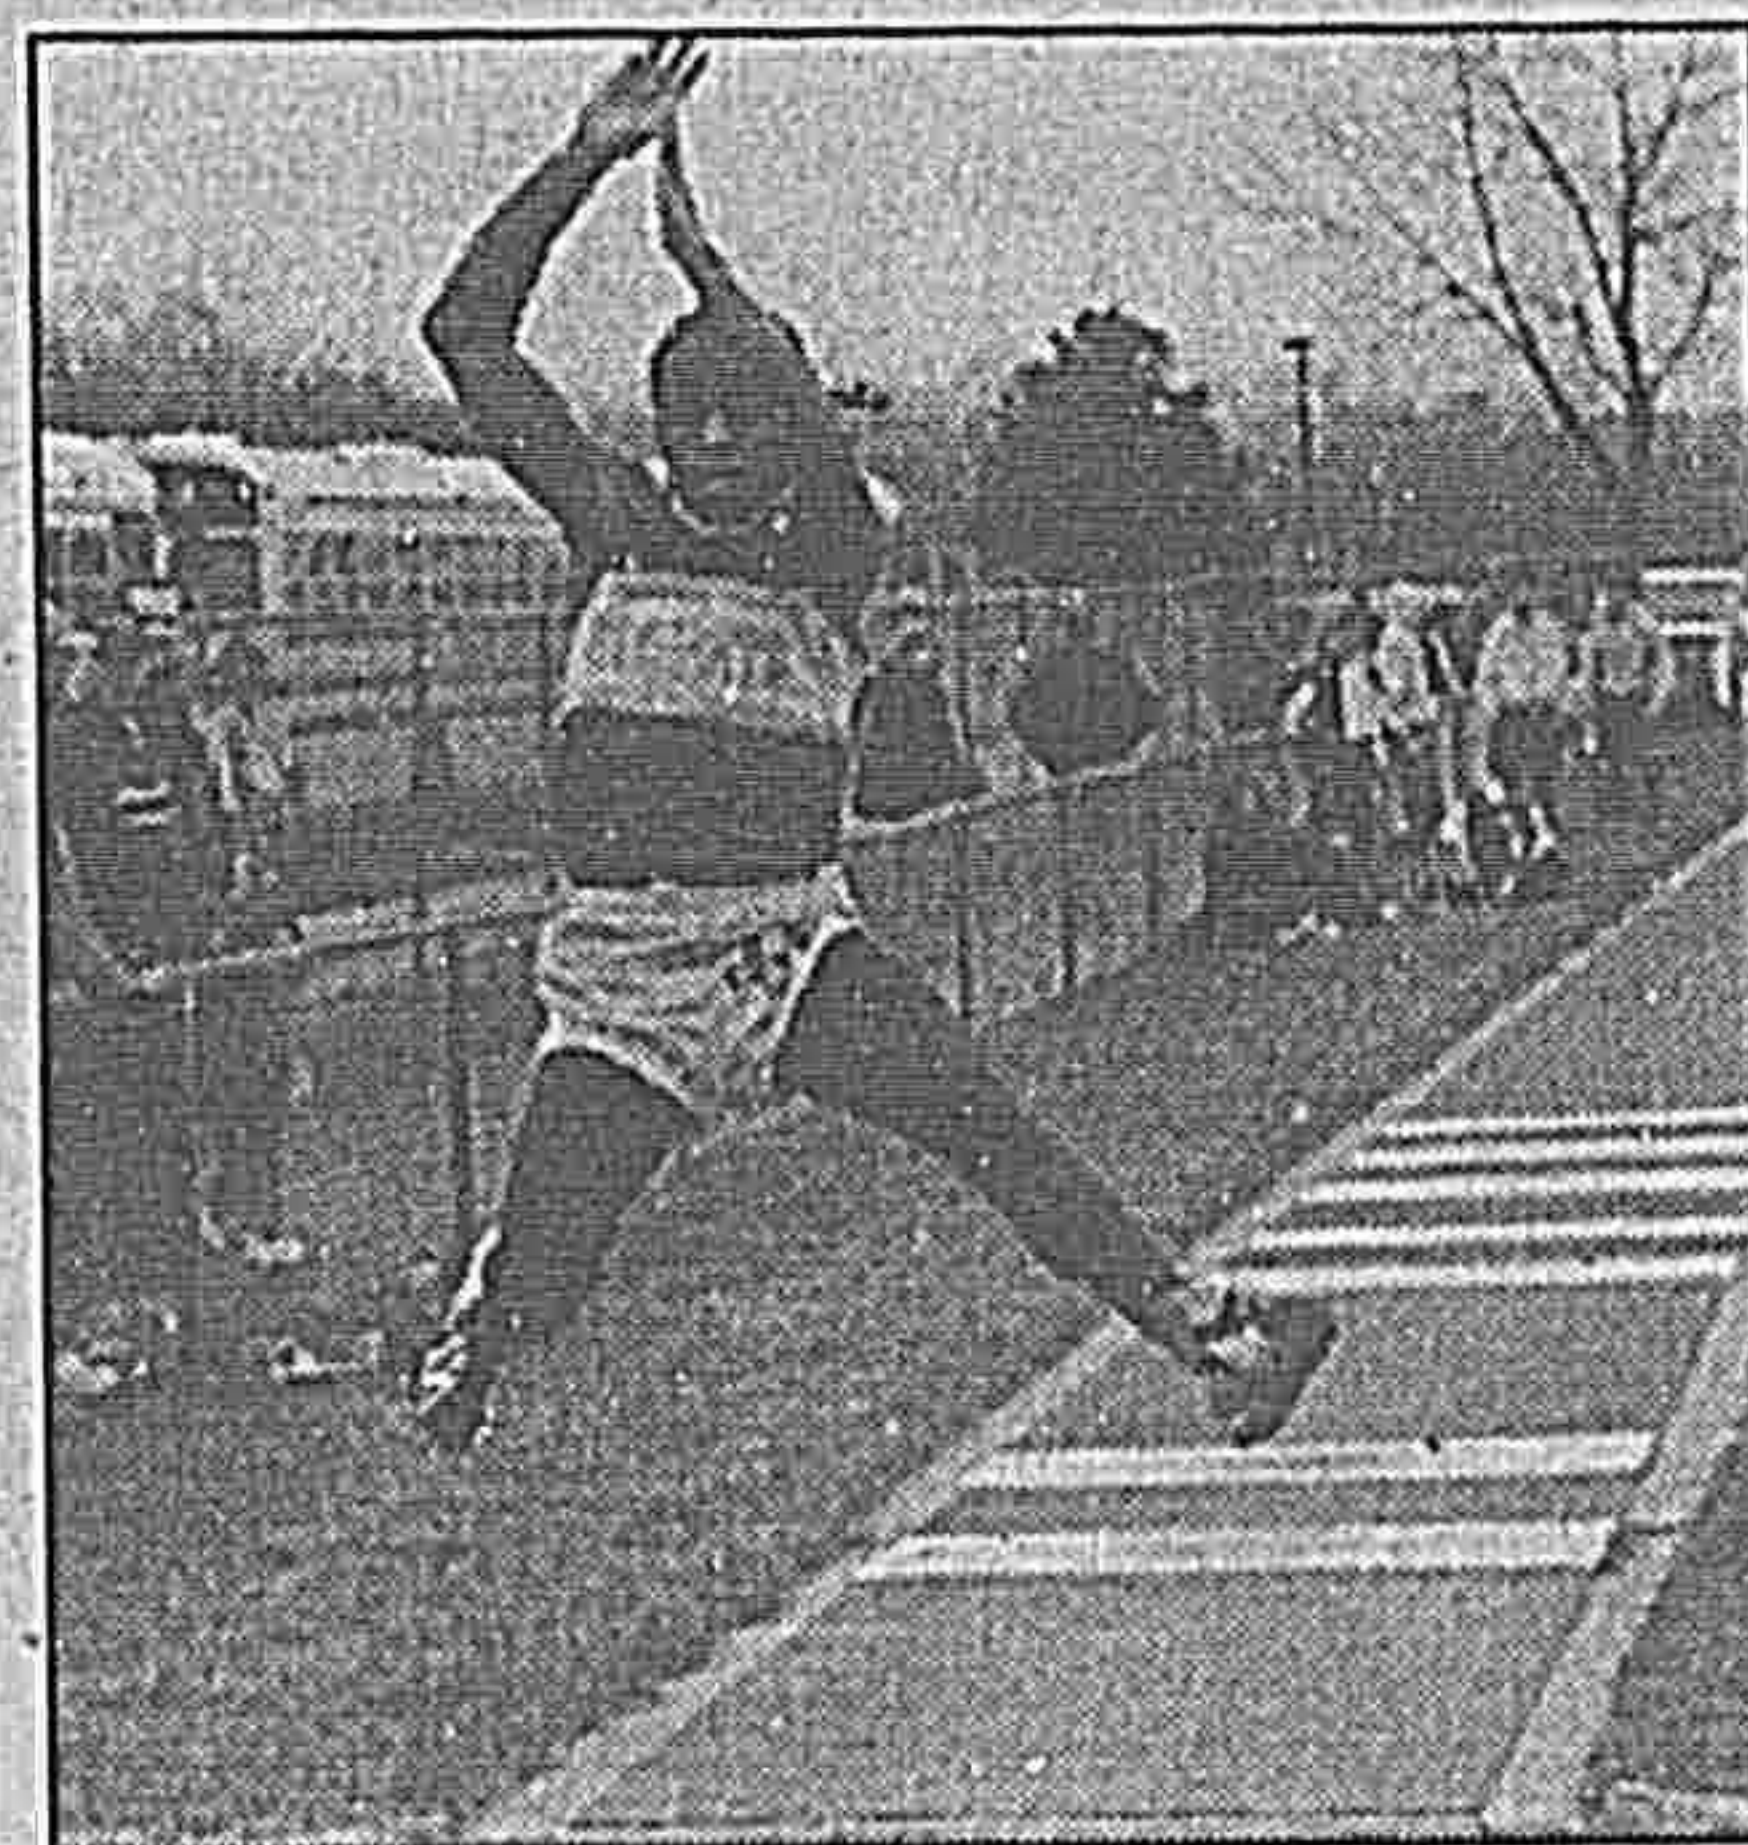

Although Schultz wants to see her former students succeed, her goal in winning both games isn't lost.

"It would be sweeter to beat them because they're always on top," said Schultz. "And it's always nice to see an underdog come up."

The Antioch High School boy's track team finished 10th with 28 at the 18-team Lake County Invitational last week in Deerfield.

"I figured that if we got any points, being as young as we were, it would be a good meet," said head coach Norm Hahn. Antioch freshman Anthony Baruffi took first in the county in the 400-meter with a time of 51.1 seconds. Sophomore Michael Perry finished second in the county in the 300-meter intermediate hurdles with a time of 40.9. One of only eight seniors, Ryan Jordan placed fourth in the discus with a length of 138.2-feet.

Other place-winners had Andy Napier taking fifth place in the 1600-meter with a time of 4:33. The 1600-meter relay team of Baruffi, Perry, Mike Addison, and John Ferris finished fourth.

On the season, Hahn believes that the team has improved and done well for the amount of inexperience they carry with them.

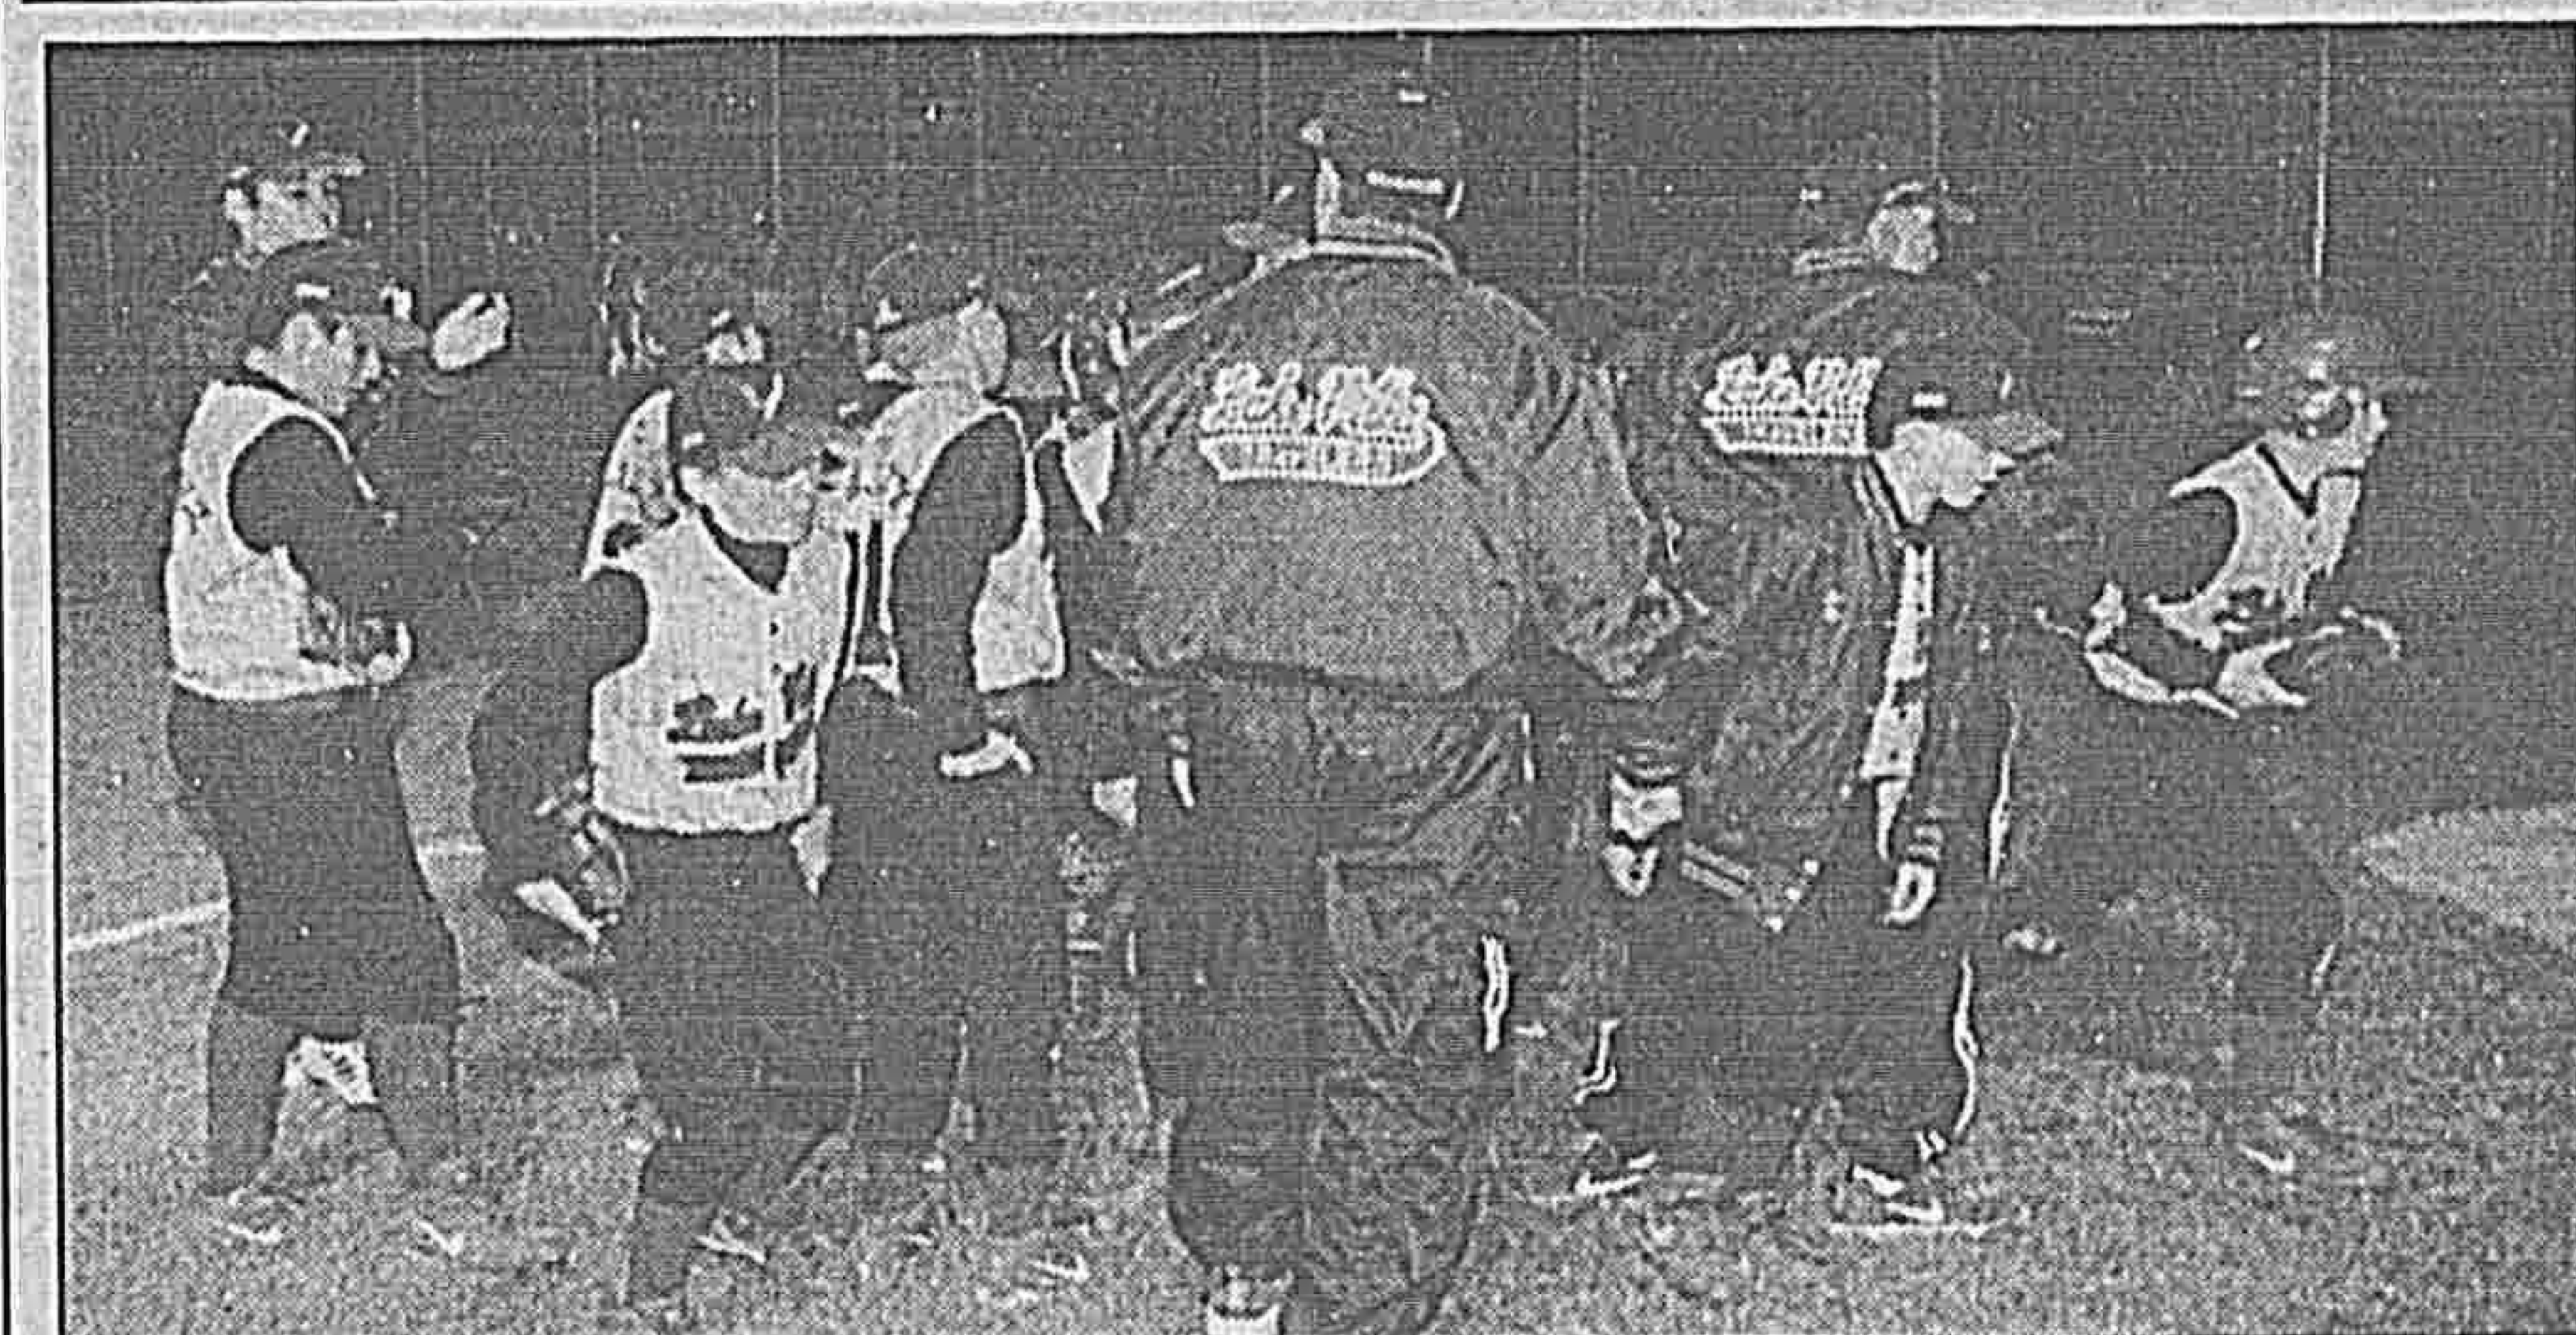

Antioch lost only twice in their division (North Suburban Conference Lake Division) to Stevenson and Libertyville. It won dual meets against Lake Forest, Mundelein, and Warren in their division, as well as beat Round Lake and Wauconda in crossover meets. Antioch finished the season in conference with a 5-2 dual-meet record.

On May 9, the Sequoits will compete in the North Suburban Conference meet being held at Round Lake High School.

"I'm hoping to finish in the top-half," Hahn said. "There will be 12 schools there, if we could finish fourth it would be really good."

Antioch will then compete in sectionals May 17 at Grayslake. The first events will get underway at 4:30 p.m. With many of the same team's attending that sectional that were at the county meet, Hahn believes that Perry, Baruffi, and Jordan, all have a decent chance to advance to the state finals.

"If they run a good race I think they can qualify," said Hahn.

Chicago Kickers soccer comes to northern Lake County

The well-known and established S.C. Chicago Kickers, directed by Grayslake resident Tommy Soehn, have made Lake Villa their new home.

The move was orchestrated when Soehn moved to Grayslake and saw the need for a youth soccer program in Northern Lake County.

With over 10 years as a professional soccer player and now as a coach with the Chicago Fire, Soehn will bring the most up-to-date training to the Kickers.

The Kickers are currently in the process of building two premier soccer fields and a clubhouse on the property of the German Aid Society in Lake Villa. The target date for completion of the fields is fall, 2003 and in the meantime, the Kickers have arranged for the use of soccer fields through local organizations.

Chicago Kickers teams will be established for the upcoming Fall 2002/Spring 2003 season.

Tryouts for the Girls' U13 and U14 will be held on May 10 from 6-7:30 p.m., tryouts for the Boys' U10 and U11 will be held on May 17 from 5:30-6:30 p.m. and tryouts for Boys' U12, U13 and U14 will be held on May 17 from 6:30-7:30 p.m. A make-up day will be held on May 18 from 9-10 a.m. for those players who can't attend the dates listed above.

All tryouts will be held at the German Aid Society, located at 259 W. Grand Ave., approximately one mile west of Rte. 83 in Lake Villa. Tryouts for high school boys will be held in October.

The primary goal of the Kickers organization is to provide kids with the instruction they need to become successful youth soccer players.

Once the new fields are completed, additional teams and age groups will be added.

Chicago Kickers teams will be proved with professional trainers and a coaching director in order to provide the best opportunities for players to be successful. For additional information, call (847) 680-0923 or (847) 356-5311.

Soccer camps will also be offered this summer through Tommy Soehn Soccer Camps at various locations, including the College of Lake County. Professional coaches and players will be the instructors. You can obtain a brochure and enrollment form at www.soehnsoccercamps.com or by calling (312) 951-1710.

ANTIOCH

DUI

David J. Dombkowski, 40, of 8531 235th Ave., Salem, Wis., was arrested for driving under the influence of alcohol on May 4 at 1:45 a.m. on Rte. 83 north of North Ave.

Dombkowski failed to dim his lights as he passed Antioch police. The officer turned around to follow the vehicle and witnessed it cross over the fog line several times "almost crashing into the ditch line."

Dombkowski was stopped north of the border and Kenosha County Sheriff's officers arrived to assist.

Dombkowski slurred his speech and the strong odor of alcoholic beverage was detected on his breath as Antioch police checked his driver's license. He failed all field sobriety tests requested of him.

He was arrested and transported to the Antioch Police Dept. where he was put through booking procedures. Dombkowski refused all chemical testing. He was issued citations for DUI, improper lane usage and failure to dim headlights.

Dombkowski was released on $300 cash bond pending his May 21 court date.

Warrant arrest

Heather J. Chiuffo, 22, of 587 Main St., Antioch, was arrested on warrant on April 27 at 11:57 p.m. at 561 Main St.

Police observed a vehicle in the parking lot of a closed business. A routine check of Chiuffo's identification through LEADS came back with information that she was wanted through Cook County for failure to appear on assault charges.

Cook County requested that she be transported to the Antioch Police Dept. for fingerprinting to confirm that Chiuffo was the correct person wanted on the warrant.

She was arrested and transported to the Antioch Police Dept. where she was put through booking procedures and fingerprinted. She was placed in a cell to await the results.

No valid driver's license

Jose A. Segura, 26, of 1508 May St., Racine, Wis., was arrested for driving without a valid driver's license on May 3 at 4:29 p.m. at McMillen and Ram roads.

An Antioch officer was nearly struck head-on on McMillen north of Ram. Segura told the officer he knew he made a mistake and provided a Wisconsin instructional permit. He was the lone occupant of the vehicle.

His permit was confirmed through dispatch.

Segura was arrested and transported to the Antioch Police Dept. where he was issued citations for driving in the wrong lane and driving without a valid driver's license. He was put through booking procedures and released on personal recognizance pending his June 12 court date.

He was locked at 52 mph in a 40-mph zone. A check of his identifiers through LEADS/NCIC came back with information that his driver's license was suspended.

Kurinec was arrested and transported to the Antioch Police Dept. where he was issued citations for speeding and driving while suspended. He was put through booking procedures and released on personal recognizance pending his June 12 court date.

Dorian A. Palmer, 19, of 34 Old Mill Trail, Antioch, was arrested for driving while suspended on April 30 at 9:12 a.m. on Depot at Center St.

Cosio was arrested and transported to the Antioch Police Dept. where he was issued citations for speeding, operating a vehicle on a foreign driver's license while suspended and operating an uninsured vehicle.

He was put through booking procedures and released on personal recognizance pending his May 22 court date.

LAKE VILLA

DUI

Mike Wolkins, 32, of 33 E. Grand Ave., Lake Villa, was arrested by Lake Villa Police on May 2, at 2:07 a.m., while driving westbound on Route 132 near Oak Lane. He was observed driving across the center line and weaving. He failed field sobriety tests. A preliminary breath test in the field yielded .201 BAC. Wolkins refused a Breathalyzer test. Police determined his registration was suspended. He was charged with driving with suspended registration, improper lane usage and DUI alcohol. He was released on a $3,000 I-bond, pending an appearance in Waukegan courtroom C-402, on June 21, at 9 a.m.

Gerald M. Altman, 36, of 540 N. Lake St., Grayslake, was arrested by Lake Villa Police on April 30, at 2:41 p.m., while driving on Monaville Road, west of Fairfield. He was observed crossing the fog line and weaving. After he threw a cigarette butt out of his window, police activated emergency lights. Altman did not stop. Police activated sirens. Altman stopped at Route 59, at a stop sign. When directed to move to the shoulder of the road, the driver complied, then threw his hands in the air, according to a police report. Police found a quarter-bottle of beer on the floor of the vehicle.

The driver said he did not know if the car was insured, as he "just took it." The owner was located. He said that, although Altman took the car without permission, he would not prefer charges.

Altman failed field sobriety tests and refused breath tests. He was charged with illegal transport of liquor, driving with a revoked license, improper lane usage, driving an uninsured vehicle and DUI alcohol. He was released on a $3,000 I-bond, pending an appearance in Waukegan courtroom C-402, on May 24, at 9 a.m.

Justin A. Camper, 30, of 2017 Graystem Circle, Gurnee, was arrested by Lake Villa Police on April 27, at 2:45 a.m., while driving eastbound on Route 132 near Sheehan Drive. Police observed the driver's green Jeep driving from 18 inches to 12 inches from the vehicle in front of it. Twice, the Jeep slammed on its brakes to avoid colliding with the vehicle in front. The car in front moved off the road, to the shoulder, to allow the Jeep to pass. Police following the Jeep observed it cross the center line twice.

When stopped, the driver asked police if they knew of a particular officer, in what appeared to be an attempt to, as the police report alleged, "get professional courtesy." The driver said he had been driving with "cruise control" set at 40 mph. The road was marked as a 30-mph zone. He told police he had consumed four beers at Nuttie's Bar over a one-hour period. He failed field sobriety tests and refused breath tests.

He was charged with improper lane usage, following too closely and DUI alcohol. He was released on a $3,000 I-bond, pending an appearance in Waukegan courtroom C-402, on May 24, at 9 a.m.

Michael A. Cleaver, 34, of 24521 W. Passavant in Round Lake, was arrested by Lake Villa Police on April 30, at 12:25 p.m., while driving westbound on Route 132 near Fairfield Road. The driver failed field sobriety tests, and told police he was on medication for an injury from an accident. He also said he was arrested the day before, in Antioch. He was charged with DUI an unknown substance, failure to carry a driver's license and driving without registration. Police alleged he told them he fixes police cars, and "now I'll really fix them." He was released on a $3,000 I-bond, pending an appearance in Waukegan courtroom C-402, on June 7.

Fostering Love

Lake Villa family of 11 overcomes hardship, thrives on lots of fun

By DENYS BUCKSTEN
Lake County Editor

If Jim and Sheila Denikas were going to throw in the towel on fostering children with severe physical and emotional problems, they would have likely done so with Heavenly, or Bobby.

The Denikas'—he's 31, she's 30—haven't blinked yet, according to social workers at Central Baptist Family Services in Lake Villa. The couple with two children of their own, Jason, 12, and Kimberly, 9, have accepted seven other children into their six-bedroom farmhouse on 3 1/2 acres in rural Lake Villa: Travis, 18; Amanda, 11; twins Matthew and George, 10; Heavenly, 8; Johnny, 7; and Bobby, 4.

Few child care professionals would have thought the less had the Denikas' given up on Heavenly, 4 1/2 when they got her; or Bobby, an infant when he came "home" to Lake Villa.

Sheila, a bubbling fountain of energy, recalled that Heavenly "came to us with no honeymoon. She was kicking and screaming and cursing when we got her. She was absolutely out of control."

"Heavenly was our one placement who we thought would not last 30 days. We didn't even think she would last the weekend," added Sheila.

And Bobby, were Las Vegas to give odds on such matters, would have been given even less of a chance at a successful life than Heavenly.

"Bobby weighed only one pound at birth and weighed 10 pounds at 5 1/2 months," said Sheila. "For a year he had a shunt in his head. He was zero to 14 months in receptive and expressive language and didn't walk until he was 26 months."

From such horrific beginnings, the children have taken giant leaps while living in the loving Denikas home. Heavenly is very active, under control and has over the last four years lived up to her name.

And Bobby is in gymnastics and plays T-ball.

The Denikas' credit the intervention of Child and Family Services social worker Robyn Ondo, family support, and the friendship and advice from their support groups.

Ondo throws it right back at them. "I've been working with the Denikas' since their first foster child placement.

And I think they are genuinely a very special family, that has really opened their hearts to their children. They've really stretched themselves in that way."

But, good intentions are one thing; practical problem solving on a scale of nine is another.

"Both the Denikas' have been very willing since the start to (do) whatever it takes to make it work. They have utilized all the services that are provided (by Central Baptist and other agencies) and they have an excellent working relationship with Central Baptist."

County to get its first mosque

Boom in Muslim population brings about need for area's 10,000 worshippers

By STEVE SKINNER
Staff Reporter

It is estimated that there are approximately 10,000 Muslims living in Lake County. Currently, no mosque exists for the many Muslims to pray or teach the faith to their children.

That may soon change with the proposed mosque to be built at 32059 O'Plaine Road in unincorporated Waukegan. Plans are in the works to build an 18,000 square-foot facility on a ten-acre parcel north of Route 137. Planning and fund-raising efforts have been ongoing for years, to bring to fruition the estimated $1.6 million facility.

Currently, about $900,000 has been raised for the mosque.

Lake County Muslims have used temporary facilities in Grayslake, the Masonic Temple in Libertyville or the Civic Center for prayers. Final approval of access permits from the City of Waukegan should be issued soon and it is hoped construction can begin sometime within a month.

The Islamic Foundation North is an organization founded by seven families in 1977 and at one point prayer services were held in a recreation room at Great Lakes naval Training Center. There are approximately 2,100 people who attend Eid prayers at the Libertyville Masonic Temple. Eid is a religious festival that lasts for three days and is celebrated twice a year. For the weekly prayers at the temple, approximately 250 people attend.

The Muslim population is growing, not only in Lake County, but also across the country. The Muslim population is comprised of people who have relocated to America, but according to estimates from the United Muslim Americans Association based in Palos Hills, at least 50 percent of the Muslims are people who were born in America. The Association tracks the growth of the Muslim population and records show that there is strong growth in Illinois, especially in the suburbs.

It is hoped that by having a mosque in Lake County, this will draw other Muslims to move here because there is a place to worship and educate their children.

LOCAL GOLF DIGEST

Stonewall Orchard chips in with 'PGA Free Lesson Month'

Stonewall Orchard Golf Club, Chicago's first Arthur Hills-designed course, located in northwest suburban Grayslake, will offer free 10-minute lessons throughout the month of May in connection with "PGA Free Lesson Month" as designated by PGA of America.

The May issue of Golf Digest carries a cover story on "PGA Free Lesson Month," and golfers must take the free lesson coupon from that issue to Stonewall Orchard for a free 10-minute lesson. It was exactly one year ago when Golf Magazine ranked Stonewall Orchard as Chicago's fourth best public course.

Certain days will be set aside to offer these free lessons and persons must call 848-740-4890 for more information and to reserve a time.

Players can request a lesson on any aspect of their games, from straightening out their drives to escaping from a bunker to correctly lining up putts. Lessons will be provided by Bob Malpede, Stonewall Orchard's Director of Golf, or Jeff Padula, head golf professional.

Stonewall Orchard opened its doors to the public in July 1999. Designer Arthur Hills allowed the natural rolling landscape to dictate a magnificent 18-hole Lake County design, which features more than 65,000 fully mature pine and oak trees, acres and acres of rolling hills, tranquil wetlands and wildlife. The course will open a brand-new 5,000 square foot clubhouse and dining facility this June.

More than 3,200 PGA professionals have registered to serve as instructors in the free golf lesson program, which is being spearheaded by PGA of America and Golf Digest.

"We are happy to participate in the PGA Free Lesson Month," said Malpede. "PGA Free Lesson Month allows amateur golfer the opportunity to directly benefit from the knowledge and expertise of PGA professionals." From the 4,968-yard junior short course to the 7,074-yard, par 72 championship layout, each hole provides its own identity while completely immersing the golfing public into nature.

Stonewall Orchard proudly boasts "no houses" along its 18-hole layout, a mandate set in stone by Ben Sargent, the course's majority owner, whose family had farmed the land that Stonewall Orchard was built upon for the last 100 years.

More information on the course is available at www.stonewallorchard.com.

Smooth election

The first post-redistricting election and third "chadless" voting day in Lake County has come and gone. On the radio show "Prairie Home Companion" they say the folks in Lake Wobegon are all above average, but it was clear on Election Day that the residents of Lake County are every bit as discerning. We had 2,000 more ballot types than in the year 2000 elections. Even with 3,206 different ballot types, the election judges managed very well. Those voting for the first time since November 2000 handled the optical scan ballot with amazing ease - much like coloring a lotto ticket. The few voters who were assigned to a different voting site were also patient and understanding.

The beloved actor Jimmy Stewart once said he never thought of his audience as customers, but as partners. The poll workers and voters demonstrated this sentiment, too. Our country has survived many challenges both past and present. We succeed, in spite of acts of aggression, because we stand united in our common commitment to the tasks at hand. Also, much credit goes to everyone involved in the March 19th election - the voters, judges, local clerks offering absentee voting, the facilities where voting is held, election day field representatives, election night workers, and the staff in the County Clerk's office.

Especially encouraging and commendable were the high school students who served as election judges. While we have recruited and trained a record 4,000 election judges, many were unavailable to serve in March. Approximately 150 students volunteered, were trained and worked election day. Stevenson High School, and Antioch, Grayslake and Zion high schools were especially helpful in providing the majority of the student judges. Our election judges who worked with the students echo that our country will be in good hands with the next generation.

President Teddy Roosevelt said: It is not the critic who counts, not the man who points out how the strong man stumbled, or the doer of deeds could have done them better. The credit belongs to the man who is actually in the arena; whose face is marred by the dust, sweat, and blood; who strives valiantly; who errs and comes up short again and again...who knows the great enthusiasms, the great devotions and spends himself in a worthy cause. Who, at the best, knows in the end high achievement and at the worst if he fails, at least falls while daring greatly, so that his place is not with those cold timid souls who know neither victory nor defeat.

All those who participated in the election took part in a worthy cause. We look forward to having those who stayed home being a part of the election team in November!

Nature's gems need polishing

There is growing awareness on the part of both officialdom and the public that hand-in-glove with the acquisition of public open space is providing for amenities and maintenance of Forest Preserve District land holdings.

Lake County voters have been remarkably supportive of land acquisition efforts, approving two major bond issues in the past several years. Broad-based public support for open space clearly is evident. At the same time, the question rightly can be asked, what is going to be done with the growing acreage?

Forest Preserve District officials now are mulling over the possibility of imposing a modest tax increase to fund additional services and amenities. Holy Toledo! Another tax bite? Under the law, funding propositions must be separate. One for purchase of land. One for maintenance and amenities. The successful 2000 referendum provided $70 million for land acquisition and $15 million for maintenance and public safety.

Obviously, as land holdings increase, maintenance and development costs go up. That's the dilemma being faced by commissioners. District Ex. Dir. Steve Messerli believes a tax increase of $10 to $20 per homeowner will fund service and amenity needs adequately. Before putting the question before voters, possibly as early as the fall general election, commissioners think a public opinion survey would be in order. So do we. They have a proposal of $25,500 before them. That's less than five cents per resident.

While land still is available, the Forest Preserve District is on the right track aggressively pursuing more land purchases. About $40 million in acquisition funds still are available from the 2000 referendum. At the same time, we think taxpayers are ready and are entitled to receive comprehensive information on expanding services and amenities. They should also have a voice in how district properties are developed.

The growing Forest Preserve District without question is one of Lake County's crown jewels. It's going to take money to keep our natural gems shining.

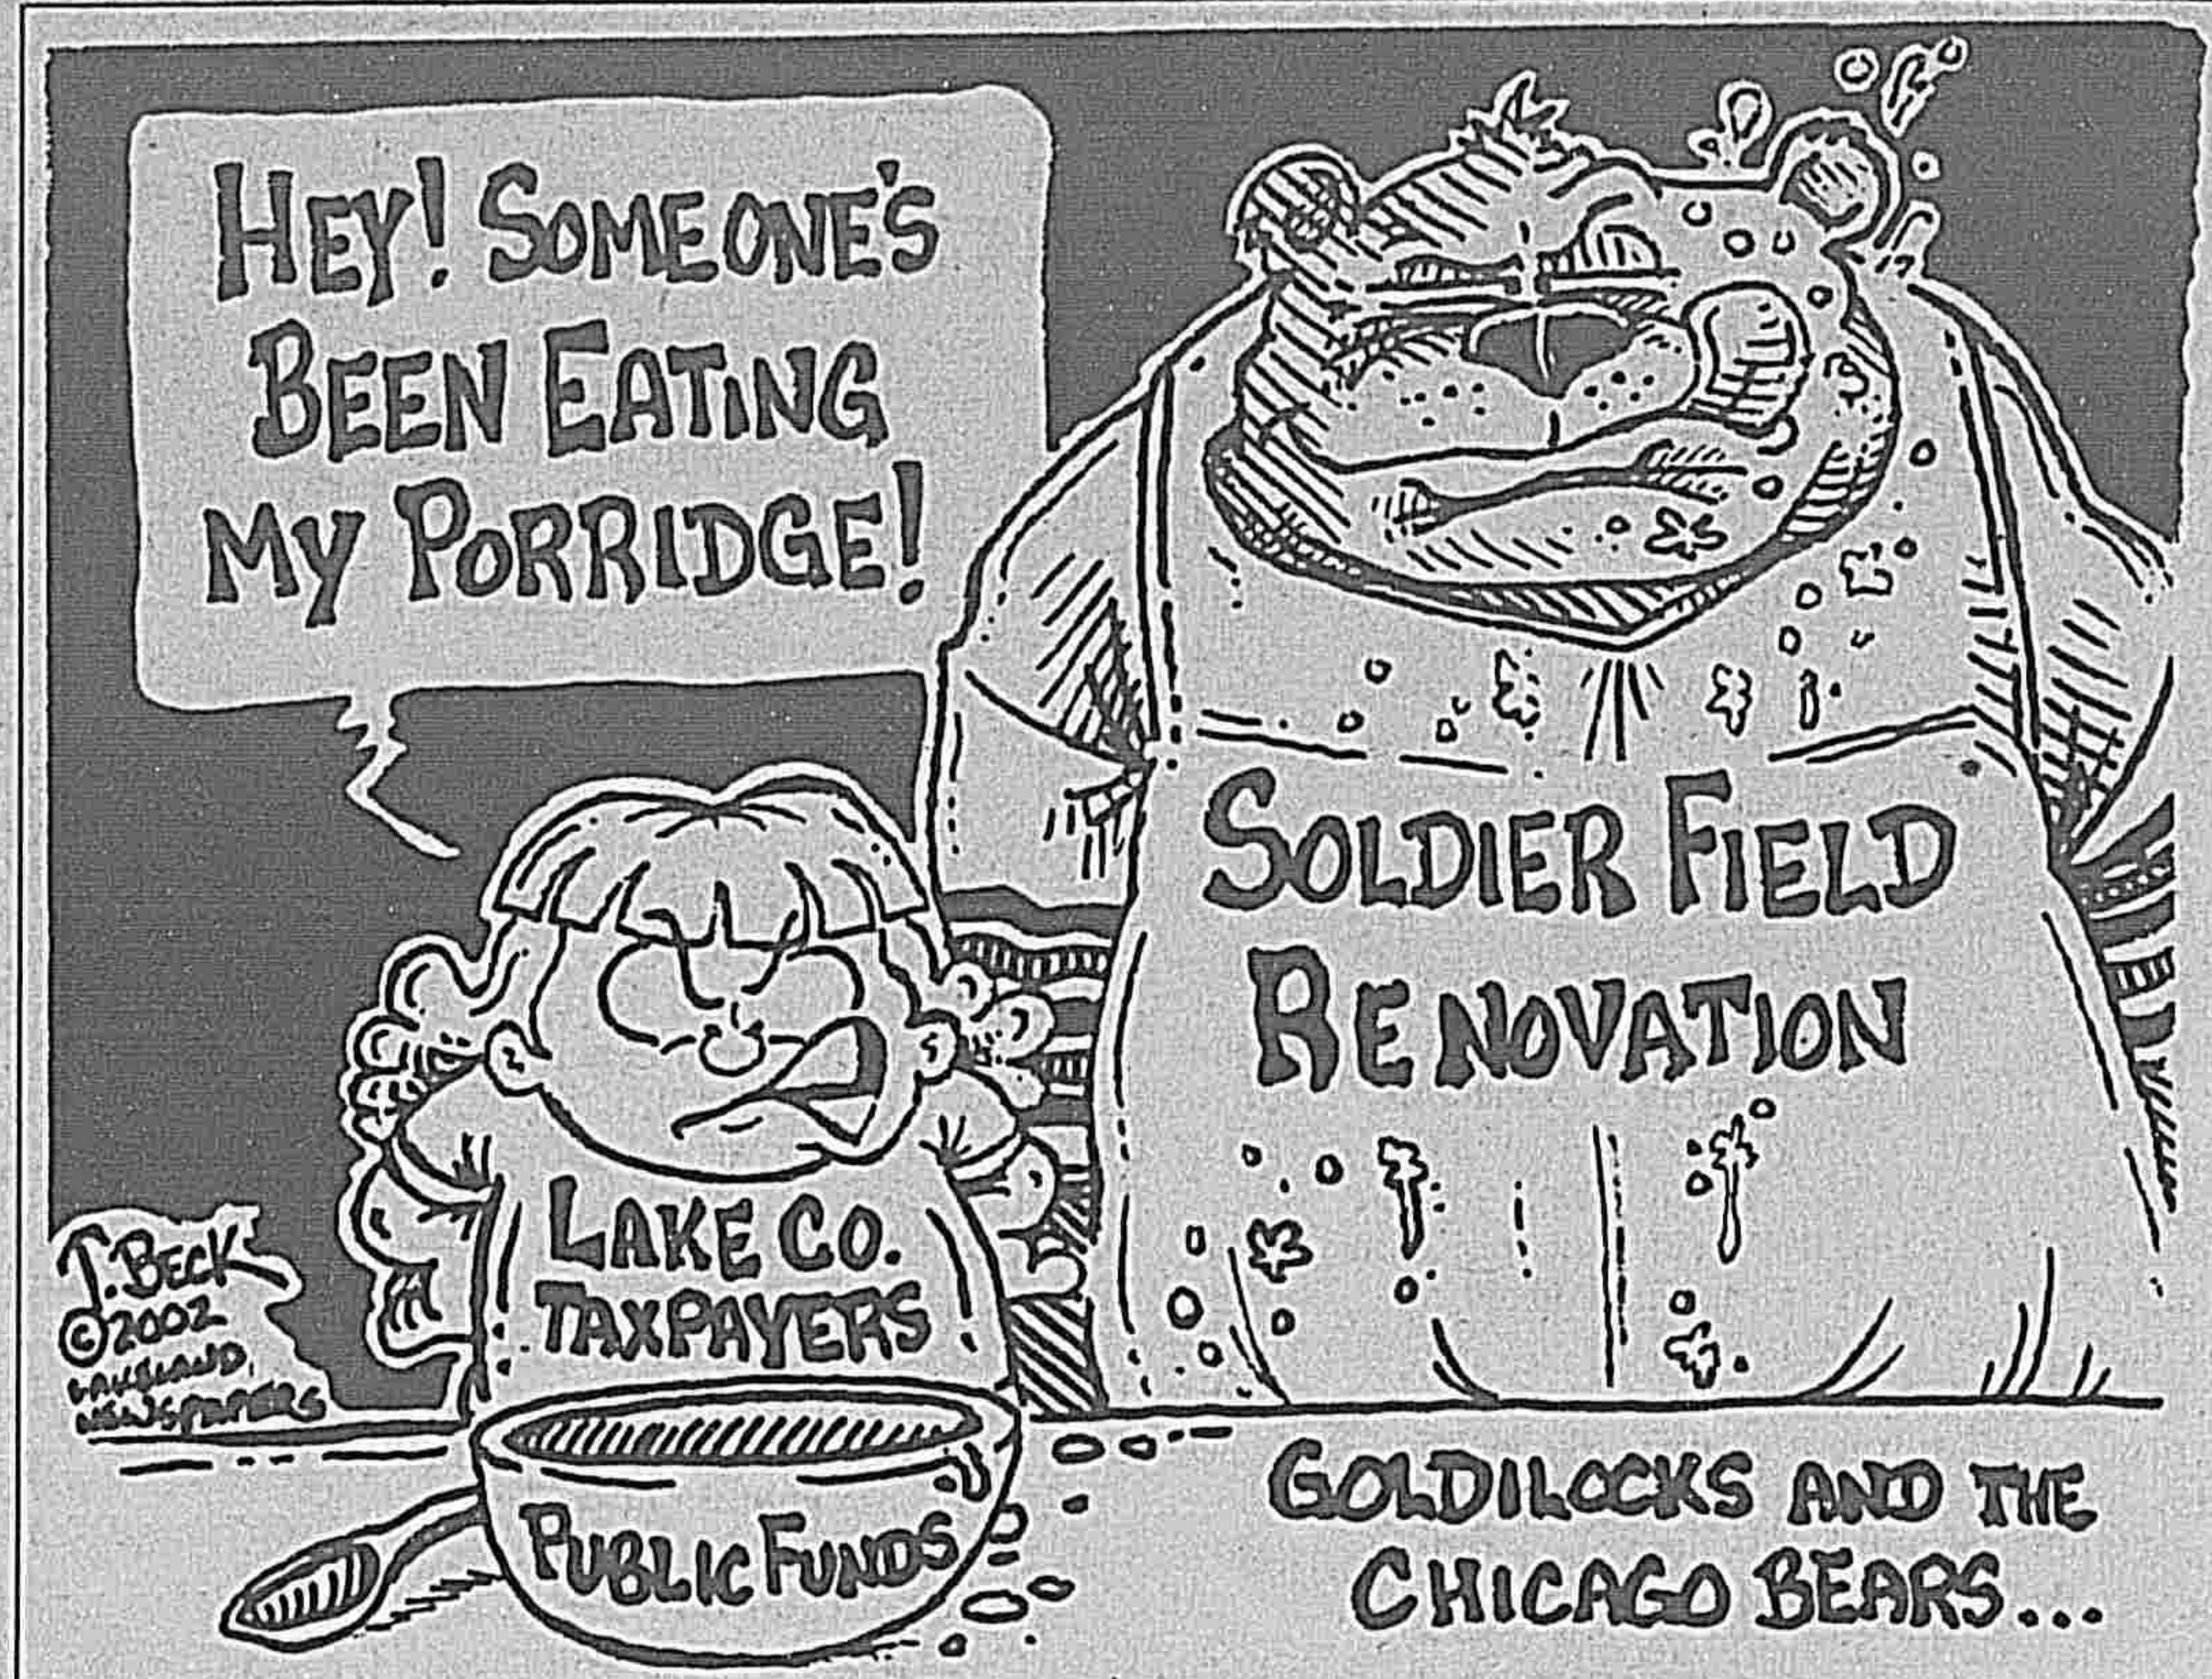

Mosque to mark growing diversity

Lake County always has been a melting pot. Nearly a half century ago the Waukegan-North Chicago area was known for a richly diverse population with approximately three dozen ethnic and religious groups identified.

Now the growing Muslim population in the county will make itself more evident with the construction of the county's first mosque. Muslim families have acquired 10 acres between the Tri-State Tollway and O'Plaine Road. The future mosque site technically is within the boundaries of Waukegan, but the property is more closely identified with Green Oaks and Libertyville, where Muslims have been conducting religious services for a number of years.

The growing Muslim presence has been evident for a number of years and now is said to exceed 9,000 in Lake County. Muslims represent all walks of life, including the professions, especially health care. Lake County will be the last segment of the Chicago metro area to have a mosque.

Besides being a center for religious services, the new Muslim facility will be a focal point for education and social activities.

VIEWPOINT

Pro football star forms foundation

Jeff Zgonina, one of Carmel High School's all-time sports greats and now a star defensive tackle for the St. Louis Rams, has established a foundation to battle pancreatic cancer, a disease that took his father's life two years ago.

Jeff and family members toured Johns Hopkins University in Baltimore last May and came away impressed with the research being conducted to combat the fifth leading cause of cancer death. The Jeffrey M. Zgonina Foundation came about because of their desire to help. "We returned home eager to raise funds for this worthwhile cause," stated the pro gridder, who grew up in Long Grove, but now makes his home in St. Louis.

The Zgoninas will kick off fund-raising activities of the foundation by hosting a dinner/auction at Stonegate Banquet and Conference Center, Hoffman Estates, at 4 p.m. Sunday, June 30. There will be a dinner and both silent and live auctions for friends and interested persons.

One of Jeff's sisters, Kim Brunner, is helping with arrangements and accepting donations for the auctions. She can be contacted at 847-854-1256.

Friendly audience

Al Norman, nationally known foe of big box stores and the man who makes the late Sam Walton twitch in his grave, was among friends the other night when he described to an audience of 300 how a super Wal-Mart is going to turn Antioch inside-out—or upside down. Known for his book, "Slam-dunking Wal-Mart! How You Can Stop Superstore Sprawl in Your

BILL SCHROEDER
Publisher

Hometown," Norman has learned to speak in catchy sound-bit phrases perfected in numerous TV appearances and national media interviews.

Not to be forgotten after one-on-one conversation with the anti-box store crusader are the following observations from Norman: "Wal-Mart is not out to complement downtown; Wal-Mart is out to create a new downtown;" "Too many people mistake new building for progress;" "Wal-Mart will not be a shot in the arm; Wal-Mart will be a shot in the head;" "Wal-Mart is not the beginning of competition; Wal-Mart is the end of competition."

Norman is convinced that Wal-Mart aims to double its current roster of three stores in Lake County. "Wal-Mart is out to saturate the area," Norman noted ominously. Scary thought. Like McDonalds. A big box store at every intersection?

Favorable reaction

Response to Lakeland Newspapers' recent series on how a gang member reorganized his life with the help of God has been positive despite the fact that a part of officialdom still is in denial about the impact of gangs on daily life. A friend of Rick Bueno of 16 years standing e-mailed this column to express thanks for the series written by Jeff Zachary. "He was a troubled teen and with his experiences he can reach out to other troubled teens," the friend wrote. Rick and Jeff are deserving of high praise for their courage in collaborating on the series, an example of outstanding journalism.

Family commitment

For the past 60 years or so, car hopping at the Dog 'N Suds has been a popular entry point into the work day world for teenage girls. Still is. Only Mary and Chris Beckord, owners of Grayslake Dog 'N Suds, have taken the summer-time job to a new level. They make serving the famous root beer and basket food a family commitment. Mary, who has the job of recruiting and coordinating 30 young women, requires that every applicant be accompanied by mom and dad. "We want parents to know our rules and regulations," Mary emphasized. Besides, everything runs smoother when parents know what time work starts or that an afternoon at the pool can't conflict with work.

One man's family

Ah, another Little League season is off and running. Last Saturday was a day at the ball park for gram and gramp. Nikki played her first T-ball game at 10 a.m. (She's a Cub). John, on the Brewers again, started the season at 5 p.m. No doubt the youngsters will keep up the pace, but can't be sure about the grandparents.

Tell me why—

Recently, I was at the Waukegan Moose Lodge, and on the same evening talked to two friends who encouraged me to continue the "mix" in this column of "Tell Me Why" and politically-related issues. John Bananto, whose family was long known for their tasty pizza business, and has retired from Abbott, said "John, your column is informational and helps keep them on the ball." And then, Karl Kofler who runs K-K Construction, said that he and his wife, Edith "didn't know that I was such a comedian," referring to the Tell Me Why tidbits. Thanks to them and other readers, here's more of the same.

Tell Me Why—

When people tell you that they'll stick by you through thick and thin—they thin out before things get thick.

If someone is really frank with you—do they have to start any sentence with "frankly?"

The important things in an hour-long telephone conversation—could have been said in one minute.

PARTY LINES

PARTY LINES, THE LAKELAND NEWSPAPERS' COLUMN OF POLITICAL OPINION, IS PREPARED FROM STAFF REPORTS.

Gurnee studying value of bureau

Gurnee Trustees Tom Chamberlain and Ray Damijonaitis are pushing an inquiry into whether the village is getting value received from the $146,000 contributed annually toward operation of the Lake County Convention and Visitors Bureau.

With Six Flags Great America and Gurnee Mills as major attractions, Gurnee hauls in a cool $760,000 a year alone from its hotel/motel tax. The bureau is a non-governmental agency operated with financial support from vendors and participating agencies.

Gail M. Svendsen, president/CEO of the bureau, says the possible drop of Gurnee support would be "very serious." The five-person bureau maintains its office in Gurnee, recently relocating from a spot on Route 21 to Grand Avenue near Six Flags.

Challenges brewing

Republican leaders are vowing not to permit State Sen. Terry Link (D-Vernon Hills) and State Rep. Karen May (D-Highland Park) to go unchallenged in the November general election. Link, county Democratic chairman, and May, representing one of the most solidly Democratic areas in Lake County, ran unopposed in the spring primary. The political process provides for party slating when there are no primary nominees. Finding candidates for these two races is a major responsibility of the new Lake County Republican chairman, Green

Svendsen: Hopes her visitor's bureau doesn't lose Gurnee.

Del Re: Making the rounds for another.

Adams: Looking for some GOP ringers.

Oaks, Mayor Tom Adams. The GOP is promising stellar challenges to Link by the May 20 deadline.

Staying together

Fremont Township (Mundelein) open space advocates, defeated in their first attempt in March to form a tax supported district to acquire open lands, intend to reintroduce the measure during the 2004 election cycle. Atty. Rainey Ray of Wauconda, one of the advocates for open space, said the group will remain organized during the mandatory 23-month waiting period provided by law.

Golf with Gary

A fund-raising golf outing for Sheriff Gary Del Re's campaign treasury was so successful last year that he's going for an encore Wednesday, June 5, at Antioch Golf Club. The sheriff said non-golfers are invited to join the festivities for dinner where a silent auction will be a major attraction. Reservations for four-somes can be made by calling 847-625-9800.

Withdrawal looms

Reconsideration is being given by the North Chicago Unit District board of education to Dr. Patricia Pickels, Superintendent, running for regional superintendent of schools. Pickels is the Democratic nominee. Reports are circulating that Pickels might withdraw. The Republican nominee, Roycealee Wood, was a long-time high-ranking executive in the North Chicago Unit School District before joining the regional schools office as assistant superintendent.

Hispanic slated

Republicans are excited about the slating of Della "Dee" Garcia for County Board representative from a new Waukegan District. Garcia, a loan officer for a Gurnee mortgage lending firm, is popular and well connected in the Hispanic community. Both political parties supported remapping efforts to create a Hispanic district. Mary Ross Cunningham, an African-American, upset Democratic strategy by wresting the nomination from two Hispanic candidates. The GOP selected Garcia over two other applicants.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Increase unjustified

As I left the Grayslake Metra parking lot on Tuesday evening, April 16, 2002, I noticed the sign that announced the parking fee increase from $1 to $1.50. The sign stated that the fee will be in line with other Metra lots in the area.

I have departed from the Grayslake Metra station, the Round Lake Beach Metra Station, and the Libertyville downtown Metra station. Justifying an increase on our fees to those facilities, is wrong, in my opinion.

The Round Lake Beach station is a fairly new station with a substantial indoor heated waiting area and, I believe, a section in the parking lot with resident only parking. The Libertyville station, while not as well equipped, does have a clean indoor waiting station with a ticket agent. In addition, the area around the station is well maintained, along with resident permit parking.

Also, this destination has more express trains downtown in the morning compared to Grayslake.

I'm sure I don't need to describe in detail our facility in Grayslake at the end of Lake Street. To either a first time visitor or a passer-by, it creates a poor first impression.

I would not mind paying more for my parking at the Grayslake station if I could get a better waiting room, more express trains, or a nicer look for our overall train stop. But, to pay more for an unheated, unmanned, and unsightly station is not the message to send to mass transit commuters.

Perhaps the Village of Grayslake should look for an alternative source of revenue than raising parking fees of those who are part of the traffic solution, not the problem.

Mark O'Connor
Grayslake

Deserving elderly

I understand that senior hunger is on the rise in Illinois, so I was shocked to hear that Illinois lawmakers are considering cutting homemaker services for the frail elderly. What they may not know is that it plays an important role in the war to end senior hunger. Homemaker workers prepare meals for elderly clients who cannot cook for themselves and whose families are not available to help. They also buy groceries for shut-ins, who do not have families to do it for them. Some people have said that the Meals On Wheels programs can pick up the slack. The only problem is they will need more funding to cover the additional clients.

Please help keep Homemaker Services in place for the frail elderly. Call or write your state legislators today and tell them that Homemaker Services are too important to cut. We can't afford to give up ground on the war on senior hunger. The frail elderly of our state deserve more.

Ilomae Curran
Waukegan

Change the process

I am deeply grateful to the Illinois voters and the hundreds of volunteers who supported me during my campaign for governor. I was overwhelmed by the outpouring of enthusiasm for our common goal of putting government back in the business of helping people. My message was clear and simple: the problems facing Illinois families require a problem solver, not just another politician.

Our next governor will set the state's priorities for the next four years. We must ensure every child has access to a quality education, regardless of geography or income. We must endeavor to create economic opportunity for families in every region of the state. We must reduce the cost of health care, to help seniors and families make ends meet. We must address the state's fiscal crisis, to secure our solvency for future generations.

Paul G. Vallas
Candidate for governor

Critics criticized

Let's see. Lake County has more than 400 voting precincts with five judges on average in each one. My math tells me that more than 2,000 workers are in the polls on Election Day. The election workers come out twice a year in the presidential and gubernatorial elections and one time in the village election years. And one person should be held personally responsible for everything that more than 2,000 well-meaning neighbors do during a 14-hour or longer day. Make any sense?

The election judges serve to make sure we can exercise our right to vote. Ms. Gelhar and Mr. Lentine, unless you are willing to sign up, attend the training and work the 15-hour day, don't cast stones.

Dumb jokes appear here to stay

Television comedian Caroline Rhea says, "Two blondes walked into a building. You'd think one of them would have seen it."

I thought dumb blonde jokes were a thing of the past, but apparently not. A few minutes surfing the web (a remarkable research tool that makes frequent trips across town to the local library unnecessary) revealed they are very much alive if not well.

There are several web sites wallowing in dumb blonde jokes, such as these:

Why don't blondes eat pickles? Because they get their heads stuck in the jar.

Three dumb blondes are driving to Disneyland. They see a sign that says, "Disneyland left." So they turn back and go home.

As if that isn't dumb enough, the Internet also remains full of those timeworn jokes about lawyers, rednecks, psychiatrists and light bulbs.

For example, how many psychiatrists does it take to change a light bulb?

Only one, but the light bulb really has to want to change.

And, you may be a redneck if you've given your gun a woman's name.

Also online are sites that specialize in dumb men jokes, pope jokes, Mafia jokes and ethnic jokes. Ethnic humor may appall the politically correct but it is the playground of the irreverent.

One day, while president, Ronald Reagan had an ethnic joke he couldn't resist sharing with a friendly pack of reporters:

"How do you tell the Polish guy at a cockfight? He brings a duck. How do you tell the Italian guy? He bets on the duck. How do you know the Mafia was there? The duck wins."

When it spread through the media, an apologetic smile and a little tap dance got dear old Ronnie off the hook and he encountered only mild rebuke. He told the nation he was sincerely sorry and that "from now on, I'm going to look over both shoulders and then tell stories about Irishmen, because I'm Irish."

The late, great newspaper columnist Mike Royko did a memorable number on ethnic jokes many years ago. Typically tongue-in-cheek, Royko responded to a letter from a reader who said, "I have noted that you manage to upset just about every ethnic and racial group. However, I can't remember you ever saying anything infuriating about Scandinavians."

Because I am of Swedish ancestry, I feel I'm being ignored. So does my wife, a Norwegian-American."

Responded Royko, "I abhor ethnic humor but will grit my teeth and get on with this distasteful business to fulfill this man's request."

He then told about a Swedish guy and a Norwegian guy who separately sign up for a luxury cruise for $69.95. Both immediately get whacked by thugs, stuffed in barrels and dropped in a river.

After a while they regain consciousness and find their barrels bobbing along together. The Norwegian says, "Good afternoon. Tell me, do you happen to know if they serve dinner on this cruise?"

The Swede shakes his head and says, "No, I don't think so. They didn't last year."

JULIE promotes safe digging

Digging responsibly is the only way to dig. The alternative could mean disaster. That is the core message of an aggressive education campaign, entitled "Dig Safely Illinois" launched by representatives of the Joint Utility Locating Information for Excavators, Inc. (JULIE).

"The impact of unsafe or careless digging practices is real and often costly in terms of personal injury and damage to underground lines, property and the environment," said Mark Frost, executive director of JULIE, Inc.

"Anyone planning an outdoor project that requires digging, whether the project is large or small, should call JULIE first at 1-800-892-0123. The call to and service provided by JULIE are free to the excavator."

Professional excavators, homeowners who dig in their yards, public works employees and underground facility owners and operators are the primary targets of the campaign. Common examples of projects that require a call to JULIE at 1-800-892-0123 before digging include putting up a fence; installing a swing set for children, a mail box post, new water feature or clothes line pole; building a deck or room addition; preparing a new garden area; or adding new trees or shrubbery.

Students join in Law Day

LAKELAND

As a CLC undergrad, Jenkins was selected as a recipient for the Marshall R. Schroeder/Lakeland Newspapers Scholarship Award. Jenkins began his newspaper career as a correspondent for the Chicago Sun-Times. He joined Lakeland as a reporter and then served as community editor before his latest promotion.

Barnes is a native of California. His newspaper career began at the Contra-Costa Times in San Francisco's East Bay area. He then joined the San Jose Mercury-News for 13 years where he held several management positions before moving to Iowa as the advertising manager of the Des Moines Register. Before joining Lakeland, he was a district manager for a northern Illinois employment-recruiting agency.

have in their care have special needs and Sheila and Jim have been very open to our special services, and working with our whole treatment team."

A reporter suspects that the kids probably all have long lists of daily chores, with the older ones helping the little ones get dressed, and others feeding the two dogs and Godzilla the cat, and laundry day being a group effort — but Sheila cuts his Norman Rockwellian speculations short.

"The kids have minimal chores, nothing major," she said, explaining that Jim, who works 40 hours as a welder, makes the kids' lunches before he goes to bed at night, and Sheila handles laundry, cooking and cleaning chores in her "free time" between ferrying kids to school, baseball, gymnastics, doctors' appointments, and riding herd on special school projects.

Her two major tools are an appointment book bursting at the seams and a 12-passenger van to handle commuting chores. When the neighbor kids are part of a family activity, the Denikas' have another van at their disposal.

One efficiency with the family activities is the farmhouse itself. "We have neighbor kids over here all the time," she said.

And her husband's childhood passion for baseball translated into every Denikas kid playing the sport. Jim coaches one team and helps a relative coach another. One baseball team has six Denikas children on the roster. "If we don't show up it's a definite forfeit," said Sheila.

In addition to baseball and gymnastics, there are field trips, visits to Six Flags Great America, zoos and birthdays, with the big events planned around birthdays.

"We really have some fun birthday parties, let me tell you," said Sheila.

Next week: The Denikas family's future.

State title drive continues for CLC baseball

Lancers work double-squeeze to perfection

By STEVE PETERSON
Staff Reporter

College of Lake County's baseball team appeared to be a team on a mission in its sectional tournament games.

The Lancers used solid hitting, good pitching and steady defense to dispatch Carl Sandburg, 11-3 and 12-1 in the three-team tournament. The home cooking continues this weekend as the Lancers host the regional tournament May 11-13.

"Finishing in second place in the Skyway Conference was a heartbreaker, but it made us hungrier for this tournament," said first baseman Russ Schaibly.

Freshman Ted Damos, from Grant, picked a good day to come out of a long slump. He pounded out four hits in the second game that allowed CLC to advance.

"I came in and took a little extra hitting. We are a very confident team now. We think that we can go all the way," Damos said.

Looking at the long list of Gene Hanson-coached All-Americans down the right field line convinced the former Grant star to attend CLC. "I heard a lot of great things about Coach Hanson," Damos said.

"Ted can be either a very up or very down as a player," Hanson said.

The Lancers (37-11) used their speed in both games. A suicide squeeze executed perfectly by Adam Donohoe gave CLC the early lead.

Donny Leicht mowed down the Sandburg hitters in the first game and Chris Ramig, from Antioch, kept the Chargers hitters off stride in game two. "Our defense has been playing very well. That really helps our pitchers. We have five steady guys in Leicht, Danny Braswell, Brad Spletter, Ramig and Brandon Wedyck," Hanson said. "None are overpowering, but they get the job done."

CLC led 7-1 after five innings in the second game and continued to pour the offense on.

Damos made it a 4-for-5 day with a single in the seventh and scored on a wild pitch. Jason Schuler, who doubled earlier, walked, as did Dave Paddock.

The offense kept coming all the way through. Damos, who plays left field, put the icing on his day with an RBI single for a 12-1 lead.

Advancing to the regionals is nothing new for the Lancers, but it is always special.

"It boils down to who is nervous and who is not. At that level, they are all good teams," Hanson said. "Last year, we went to regionals and lost in five hours," he said.

Hanson said that experience, plus home field, are two things, plus talented players, that CLC has going for its effort at home this weekend.

CLC squeezes Sandburg, 11-3

According to Head Coach Gene Hanson, it's always a crapshoot when you try a double-squeeze.

Three elements have to be in place for it to work.

"First, you always have to have a good bunter," the coach said. Check. CLC has plenty of them.

"Then, you have to have a fast runner on second. The timing is always key and the element of surprise has a lot to do with it as well." Check, check and check.

Hanson's Lancers are loaded with good bunters.

Sophomore Adam Donohoe is the team's best bunter. This season, he has laid down 9-out-of-11 successful bunts with the double-squeeze on, leading to 18 RBIs. As a team this season, the Lancers have executed on roughly 20-out-of-25 double-squeeze attempts.

But last weekend against Sandburg in the Region IV, Section II tourney at CLC, sophomore third baseman Dave Paddock got the call.

With one out and Tim Baum (hit by pitch) on third and Rick Trampke (reach on error) on second, Paddock laid down a beauty.

"It was a tough pitch. It was low," said Paddock. "I just tried to keep the ball down."

Paddock certainly did that. The ball popped off his bat into the dirt right towards the pitcher.

Of course both runners were on the move.

"The ideal placement is down the third base line, so when whoever picks it up to throw to first will have their back to the runners," said Hanson.

But the ball hitting the dirt allowed for the extra split second. The Sandburg pitcher picked up the ball, saw Baum score, and proceeded to throw to first. But there was nobody home and instead of a sacrifice, Paddock had himself a 2-run single.

"They (Sandburg) broke down defensively on that one—their pitcher didn't know what to do," said Hanson.

Again, like Hanson said, the element of surprise. The double-squeeze not only produced two runs; it took the morale out of Sandburg's sails.

Paddock's 2-run double-squeeze capped off a 7-run frame that put CLC well in command at 11-3.

George Fuchs led-off the inning with a line drive solo homer to left field. Other key hits in the game included an RBI double by Baum, which scored Aaron Bardy, who was pinch-running for catcher Jason Schuler (reached on an error).

Russ Schaibly also had an RBI double that scored Chris Draska, who led off the fifth inning with a double. Starting pitcher Donnie Leicht scattered nine hits and struck out five in five innings of work. Zion-Benton product Danny Braswell tossed the final two frames for the save.

Individuals stand out at NSC girls track meet

By STEVE PETERSON
Staff Reporter

While Lake Forest's depth carried the Scouts to the North Suburban Conference girls track crown, there was an interesting battle for runner-up honors.

Libertyville garnered that honor, and will seek to continue momentum into the sectional meet at North Chicago. Other teams had solid individual efforts, if not school records, on the windy, cold and rainy day at Wauconda.

"I am very pleased with our performance," said LHS coach Harry Carlson.

Lizzy Proctor won the pole vault with a stunning 11-foot effort for LHS and the relays also performed well.

"She had the wind behind her on her jump, but I could not be more proud of Lizzy because she was out for three weeks with a foot injury," Carlson said.

The Wildcats out-distanced Zion-Benton 74-60 for second, with Grant taking fourth with 56 points. The next five were North Chicago 55, Warren 53, Vernon Hills 50, Antioch 45, Stevenson 35 and Wauconda 18.

The 800-meter medley took third with the combination of Sharon Knudsen, Jenny Byelick, Lizzy Jones and Laurie Klyman. The 4x100 meter relay of Kristie Schneider, Byelick, Jones and Kalman took fourth, as did a new 1,600 meter relay lineup. LHS also gained a strong fourth-place effort from Lauren Jagiel in the 800 meters in 2:28.4.

Antioch placed well in the jumping events. Lindsay Andrews took fourth in the pole vault, at 8 feet. Jenni Dewer took second in the high jump at 5-feet, 2 inches. Holly Clark beat out Libertyville's Ashley Gaus in the triple jump. 31-3 to 31-8.

Grant claimed two crowns. Cassie Howard beat Julie Bariamis of Antioch in the discus with a total of 124 feet, the only one to best 120. Julie Bariamis of Antioch was runner-up. Antioch held second place through 13 events.

Amy Lejeune of Grant had just enough for the final kick to win the 3,200 meter run over Jamie Knight of Lake Forest and Amber Hussain of Round Lake. The winning effort was 12:04.7. Lejeune is a sophomore.

Grant placed second in two relays, the 4x800 meters and the meet's final event, the 4x400 meters.

Hussain, meanwhile, is the heart and soul of the Panthers squad.

"Amber ran a good race, too, beating the old school record," said RL coach Bill Newby. "She has been on the varsity for three years now. She can strategize a race much more," he said.

Sherlenia Green of Vernon Hills had an excellent meet, winning the 100 meters in 12.3 clocking, while her prelims time was 13.0. She beat Lamisha Hines of Zion-Benton and two North Chicago runners in the finals. The Cougars 4x200 meter relay team finished second.

Warren coach Jim Lobitz was hoping for a strong final push in the final events to place his team in a contender status. Warren had placed two in the triple jump, with May fourth and Goldbach fifth. Dana Klemm was third in the shot put at 35-11.5 and fourth in the discus, 115-0.7.

"Dana had a personal best in both. We could not have asked Dana and Amber Dolence to do anything more," Lobitz said.

Warren won the 800-sprint medley relay over Zion-Benton with a time of 1:53.2.

"We are still running a little hurt," said Mundelein coach Steve Rossini. "Maggie Olczyk had her best time in the 300 (second place 48.5) and Tammy Michally, a sophomore, almost broke 13 minute in the two-mile (13:01.6)," Rossini said.

Ram girls 8th in FVC

With 38 team points, the Grayslake girls' track team finished in eighth-place at the Fox Valley Conference Meet.

Emily Plott had an outstanding meet, finishing first in the pole vault (eight feet) and fourth in the 400 meter dash (1:03.5). Crystal Matsey also had a first place finish in the 200 meter dash (27.2).

The 800 meter relay team of Lindsay Potter, Christa Klausner, Matsey and Plott finished third with a time of 1:56.3.

Cassie Garcia finished fourth in the shot put with a distance of 31 feet, two inches to round out the top finishers for Grayslake.

Both the 400 meter and 1600 meter relay teams rallied from the slow heat to finish in sixth place and fifth place, respectively.

"They knew they were running against the clock and really went out to run their best," said head coach Sarah Palmberg.

The girls will now compete in the North Chicago sectional on May 10 for the right to advance to the Class AA state finals in Charleston on May 17 and 18.

Meanwhile, the boys' team is approaching the FVC meet and competed in the Lake County Invite at Deerfield and in a quad with Jacobs, Lake Zurich and McHenry.

At the Lake County Invite, several Rams set personal bests but the only two to place were Jimmy Centella (4th, 800 meter dash, 2:02.9) and Lars Tiegan (3rd, high jump, 6'1") as Grayslake finished in 17th place out of 19 teams with 10 team points. Barrington won the event with 68 team points.

The Rams fared better in the quad as six Rams placed, including Kevin Wood (1st place, pole vault), Brian Clark (3rd, pole vault), Centella (3rd, 1600 meter run), Tiegan (1st, high jump), Sean Reap (4th, 800 meter run) and Bob Applehans (4th, shot put).

Grayslake will host the Fox Valley Conference meet on May 10.

Lady HoopStars steals the show in Union Grove

Continuing the winning tradition, Northern Lake County HoopStars program has produced another winning team. In its first year, the fifth- and sixth-grade girl's team, the Lady HoopStars, is already making headlines with a 5-0 record. Last weekend, the girls brought home the championship from the Union Grove tournament.

"I'm very proud of what our girls were able to accomplish in Union Grove, and extremely proud to have them in our program this year," said HoopStars program founder Gene Woltjer.

Defensively, the Lady HoopStars dominated the boards averaging 35 rebounds a game. The defensive post team of Erin Claxton (20 rebounds), Meghan Slack (35 rebounds), and Kelly Dones (30 rebounds) let little slip by for opponents. Shana Shepherd also contributed 29 rebounds for the team. Claxton blocked three shots while Lory Shaw, Shepherd and Dones added two blocks. The Lady HoopStars allowed very few opponent drives. Each team member made at least one steal and dished out one assist. Tournament leaders in steals included Joree Green with 19, Rachel Culp 14 and Shepherd 12. Every team member contributed to the scoring column for the HoopStars. Dones netted 35 total points, Shepherd 31, Claxton 26, Slack 23, Green 18, Shaw and Culp 14, Leena Gonzalez 8, and Kelsey Amour and Destinee Wells two each. Paul Claxton coaches the team.

The Northern Lake County HoopStars is a traveling basketball program involving boys in grades 5-8 and now, girls in grades 5-6. The program is in its fourth-year and has consistently expanded the number of players each year.

The girl's team is new to the program this year, for instance. The eighth-grade boy's team has been with the program the longest and is one of best in area taking first-place in almost every tournament they've played. The program is open to anyone for tryouts. Currently, the program has players from Gurnee, Wadsworth, Grayslake, Antioch, Zion, Wildwood, Lake Villa and Waukegan.

The Northern Lake County fifth- and sixth-grade Lady HoopStars are off to a 5-0 start, including a victory in the Union Grove tournament last week. The Lady HoopStars include (in no order) Asstant Coach Joe Shepherd, Erin Claxton, Kelly Dones, Rachel Culp, Destinee Wells, Leena Gonzalez, Kelsey Amour, Shana Shepherd, Head Coach Paul Claxton and Meghan Slack. The HoopStars' fifth-grade boys traveling basketball team competed in their second tournament May 3-5 at Carthage College in Kenosha, Wis. The team finished the North American Youth Sports event with one win and two tough losses. After losing the first game to the Wisconsin Wizards, the HoopStars rebounded to win their next game, beating the Racine Shooters 35-30.

Brandon Paul led the team in rebounding in all three games, averaging nine per contest. Jake Anderson contributed 10 points and four rebounds against the Shooters, while Scott Dehnke and Taylor Furmanski each scored six. The defense was led by Chad Clausen, who grabbed seven steals, John Androus with three steals and three rebounds, and Dehnke and Michael Brocius with three rebounds apiece.

James Poliquin, Ryan DeRose, and James Zotto provided support coming off the bench. The team will return to Wisconsin for another

NAYS event in Milwaukee May 17-19. Eighth-grade

The eighth-grade HoopStars went undefeated this weekend to capture first-place title in the Lake Geneva Basketball Tournament. The team defense dominated as it held every opponent to under 30 points.

"This team has a mission and they came to execute," said head coach Wayne Weese, "This is a great group of young men."

Leading the offensive charge in a 61-15 victory over the Crystal Lake Lakers was Elias Washington with 11 points, Marvin Bemby (10) and Benny Morrison (eight). Ricky Green dished out four assists while Moore had three. Bemby and Moore crashed the boards, hauling in seven and six, respectively. Moore and Green led in steals with three and two, respectively. Bruce Cabell, Marcus Lewis, Washington, and Kevin Wozniak also had steals. The defense also combined for six blocked shots. Moore had two while Chris Brown, Cabell, Green, Malcom Tinson, and Washington each had one.

In the second round, the HoopStars out-paced Badger Sporting Goods 54-22 as 8 of 11 players had steals in the game. Lewis led the way with four while HoopStars newcomers Brett Siedlecki and Cabell finished with two. Washington, whose slam-dunk energized the team, finished with seven points. Morrison netted 11 and Moore eight.

The HoopStars then handed the Oak Park Friars a 53-27 defeat. Washington and Moore controlled the boards, grabbing eight and six, respectively. Morrison also had two blocks. A balanced scoring attack was led by Washington and Moore with 12, Morrison 11 and Lewis 10. Morrison added a dunk to finish off the Friars.

The championship pitted the HoopStars against the Wildcats, an AAU team with players from Johnsburg, Crystal Lake and Huntley. Not to be outdone, Moore made his dunking abilities known, finishing with 17 points. Morrison hauled down eight rebounds and Washington six. Moore also had six steals while Green, Washington and Cabell finished with two apiece. Tinson led with 4 assists.

How much do kids need to 'fit in'?

Hi Dr. Singer,

Today we went shopping for new school clothes for our kids and boy did we run into something we haven't seen before and didn't expect. Both of our kids who are 11 and 13 started getting all uppity with us because we didn't want to buy them the "in" fashions which are very expensive. We just moved into a more upscale area and I think that our kids have already been influenced by some of the kids here in a way that we are not thrilled with. We want our kids to be happy, but we have a limited budget. We also know how important it is for kids to fit in. We said "no" to the expensive clothes. Do we buy the stuff or not? L.L.

Dear L.L.,

I will start my answer with a little vignette about a client of mine. The reason I write about this is that I love her style and I think it will clear things up for you. She also lives in a very upscale section of town, but grew up in a very small town and on very moderate means. Her kids demand to have everything upscale. One of the things that the kids have a problem with is her car. You see, she has a beat up old station wagon that she has loved and driven for a long time. It's a dependable car and has carried them through lots.

Anyway, her 12 year old daughter hates the car and is embarrassed by it. She repeatedly requests for her mom to pick her up in their other car which is more upscale. The mom is not a status person and wants to teach her kids that, so she always picks them up in the station wagon. Last time I witnessed this gentle sparring conversation between mother and daughter, the mother looked squarely into her daughters eyes and with a smile on her face said, "ask me to drive you in another car again and I'll pick you up in my nightgown with lipstick all over my face and scratch in places you don't want to see!" I almost fell out of my chair laughing! Get my point?

PARENT'S PLACE

I think this mom has it right. Kids need to learn that things don't mean anything. Who you are does! Those that define you by what you have will more than likely not be your friends anyway. Also, you cannot give in to pressure like this. You have a budget to follow. Give in now and you will regret it the rest of your life! Supporting your kids involves reasonable food, shelter, affection, medical care and clothing. I don't think reasonable needs to always include the "in" fashion things.

There are many ways to handle this. Let me just go into a couple. First, you could limit them to an amount of money they get to spend for all the clothing for school. If they want one "in" fashion thing and it takes all the money, then they just have to survive on wearing the other clothes from last year. I'm sure they still have clothes from last year. This way, they are getting to pick the "in" thing, but they are not able to run amuck with getting many of them.

Another way to handle it is to require them to pay for the purchase of any "in" stuff on their own from birthday money or money from extra odd jobs they do. This way, you are teaching them how to work for the extras they want. This is never a bad lesson. Just don't let them hornswoggle you into feeling sorry for them if they don't get everything they want. No child has ever had any serious debilitation from getting told, "no."

Regarding fitting in, as long as you don't make them wear clothes from your old closet (although that does seem to be the style these days) or that are too short or stained all over the place, they will find other things to fit in about. Certainly we don't want our kids to be doing anything just to fit in, right? Just food for thought!

Brain research shows that diet and exercise are keys to living well

An old adage says that aging is a state of mind, but new research is beginning to prove it.

As brain research advances, experts are finding that some of the physical and mental changes normally associated with aging may not actually be normal at all, but instead, the result of treatable and preventable health conditions. In fact, by some estimates, only 30 percent of physical aging can be traced to our genes. The rest is up to each individual.

According to the AARP Andrus Foundation, developing and maintaining good "cognitive health" is as important to a person's quality of life at any age as maintaining good physical health. A series of four new booklets, "Staying Sharp: Current Advances in Brain Research," provides information and tips based on this new research. The booklets were derived from a series of public forums that were conducted in partnership with the Dana Alliance for Brain Initiatives, and featured the country's foremost researchers, scientists and physicians working in the field of aging and the brain. These four booklets provide some of the most up-to-date information available.

One of the key findings of this new research is that diet and exercise are crucial not just for physical well being, but also for mental acuity at any age.

The Importance of Diet

The food choices we make throughout our lives can make a difference in the likelihood for many diseases that cause premature death or disability, including heart disease, cancer, stroke and diabetes. Three long-term studies being conducted by the Harvard School of Public Health have followed 300,000 people and suggest that:

- a diet rich in vegetables may help prevent breast and prostate cancer
- colon cancer is more common among those who eat more red meat
- high-fat diets increase the risk of heart disease, stroke and some cancers
- a diet with too many refined carbohydrates increases the risk of obesity, diabetes and heart disease.

Although there are some nutritional changes associated with aging, for the most part, what was considered a healthy diet at 40 will still be a healthy diet at 60 or 70. Health experts recommend a diet that emphasizes whole grains and fresh fruits and vegetables as well as other tips:

- Drink eight to 10 cups of fluid every day, and make at least five of those water. Limit caffeinated and alcoholic beverages.
- Reduce the amount of saturated fat in your diet and replace it with monounsaturated fat such as that in olive, canola, sunflower, safflower and soybean oils.
- When snacking, choose fruits, vegetables or whole-grain products.
- Make eating fun by sharing dinner-time with family and friends, or joining community functions whenever possible.

The Benefits of Exercise

Many experts believe that regular exercise is the single most important thing anyone can do to improve overall health and well-being. New studies show that aerobic activity increases levels of brain chemicals that encourage the growth of nerve cells, which may be the reason moderately strenuous exercise is associated with enhanced memory skills.

Some ways that exercise can help retain mental capacity include:

- reducing anxiety and stress
- improving mood and possibly alleviating depression
- improving sleep
- increasing energy levels
- slowing the rate of bone loss
- enabling the body to use insulin more efficiently
- improving cardiovascular health
- controlling weight and preventing obesity

The National Institute of Aging suggests incorporating four types of exercises into your life. Endurance exercise, such as walking, helps increase stamina. Strength exercise, with free weights or resistance weights, increases metabolism and may help prevent osteoporosis. Flexibility exercise, such as stretching or yoga, prevents and aids recovery from injuries. And balance exercises, such as standing on one foot, help prevent falls.

By following these basic tips, as well as any advice from your physician related to any specific health conditions, it is possible to live well in old age as opposed to just living into old age.

Heart health should be the front line

Intensive treatment of cardiovascular risk factors is vital for people with diabetes, according to a series of reports from the American Heart Association's Prevention Conference VI: Diabetes and Cardiovascular Disease published in today's Circulation: Journal of the American Heart Association.

"The No. 1 consequence of diabetes is cardiovascular disease," says Scott M. Grundy, M.D., Ph.D., lead author of the executive summary and chair of the American Heart Association's diabetes committee. "About two-thirds of people with diabetes eventually die of heart or blood vessel disease. We want to make people more aware of the problem of diabetes as a major contributor to the problem of cardiovascular disease."

Several recent studies show that the increase in cardiovascular disease (CVD) risk associated with diabetes can be lessened by controlling individual risk factors such as obesity, high cholesterol, and high blood pressure.

Losing weight can have a great impact on a dangerous pre-diabetic condition called the metabolic syndrome, says Grundy, who is also a professor of internal medicine at the University of Texas Southwestern Medical School in Dallas. The metabolic syndrome is a prediabetic state characterized by abdominal fat, low-levels of high-density lipoprotein, high levels of triglycerides and high blood pressure.

"One-third to one-half of the people with this syndrome eventually develop diabetes, but metabolic syndrome can lead to cardiovascular disease even before you get diabetes because of the high blood lipids and cluster of risk factors," he says.

The rise in type 2 diabetes in children and adolescents is a disturbing trend, the authors say. It is likely due to obesity and sedentary lifestyle, and increases their risk of early CVD. Grundy says that merely calling diabetes a risk factor underestimates its effect on cardiovascular disease because the consequences are so far-ranging from heart attack and stroke to kidney disease, heart failure, diminished heart function and problems in both the large and small vessels, like those in the eyes.

There are two forms of diabetes. Type 1 diabetes results from a failure to produce insulin, and it most often begins in childhood or adolescence. It accounts for 10 to 15 percent of all diabetes. Much more common is type 2 diabetes, which results from insufficient production of insulin, poor response to insulin (insulin resistance) or both. People with type 2 diabetes often have other risk factors for CVD too, such as high cholesterol and obesity. Type 2 diabetes is usually brought on by obesity, but susceptibility to it varies considerably in the population.

"In the last few years we've learned how important it is to treat cardiovascular risk factors in patients with diabetes and how much benefit can be derived," says Grundy.

With many other ailments, there are a lot of treatments or aspects of disease management that patients can do on their own, he says. However, diabetes is one condition in which physician involvement is critical.

A person's risk for CVD can be obtained inexpensively and non-invasively, she adds, citing the Framingham risk score as the "gold standard" for CVD risk assessment. It requires only a doctor's office visit to assess blood pressure, weight, smoking status and a blood sample to check cholesterol levels.

Upholstery styles get personal

This season's trends inspire individuality

Dare to be different. Imagine a sink-into-it sofa covered in a mixture of plush, floral tapestry and chenille then trimmed with long eyelash fringe; or a period-style accent chair covered in a bold, playful Buffalo plaid. This season designers are gravitating towards wonderful and unexpected mixtures of classic furniture styles dressed up to have fun. According to T.J. Schmitz, an upholstery designer for Arhaus Furniture, an 18-store retailer specializing in exclusive, quality home furnishings, "Look for a retailer that offers plenty of design options and encourages creativity with fabric combinations, textures and trims."

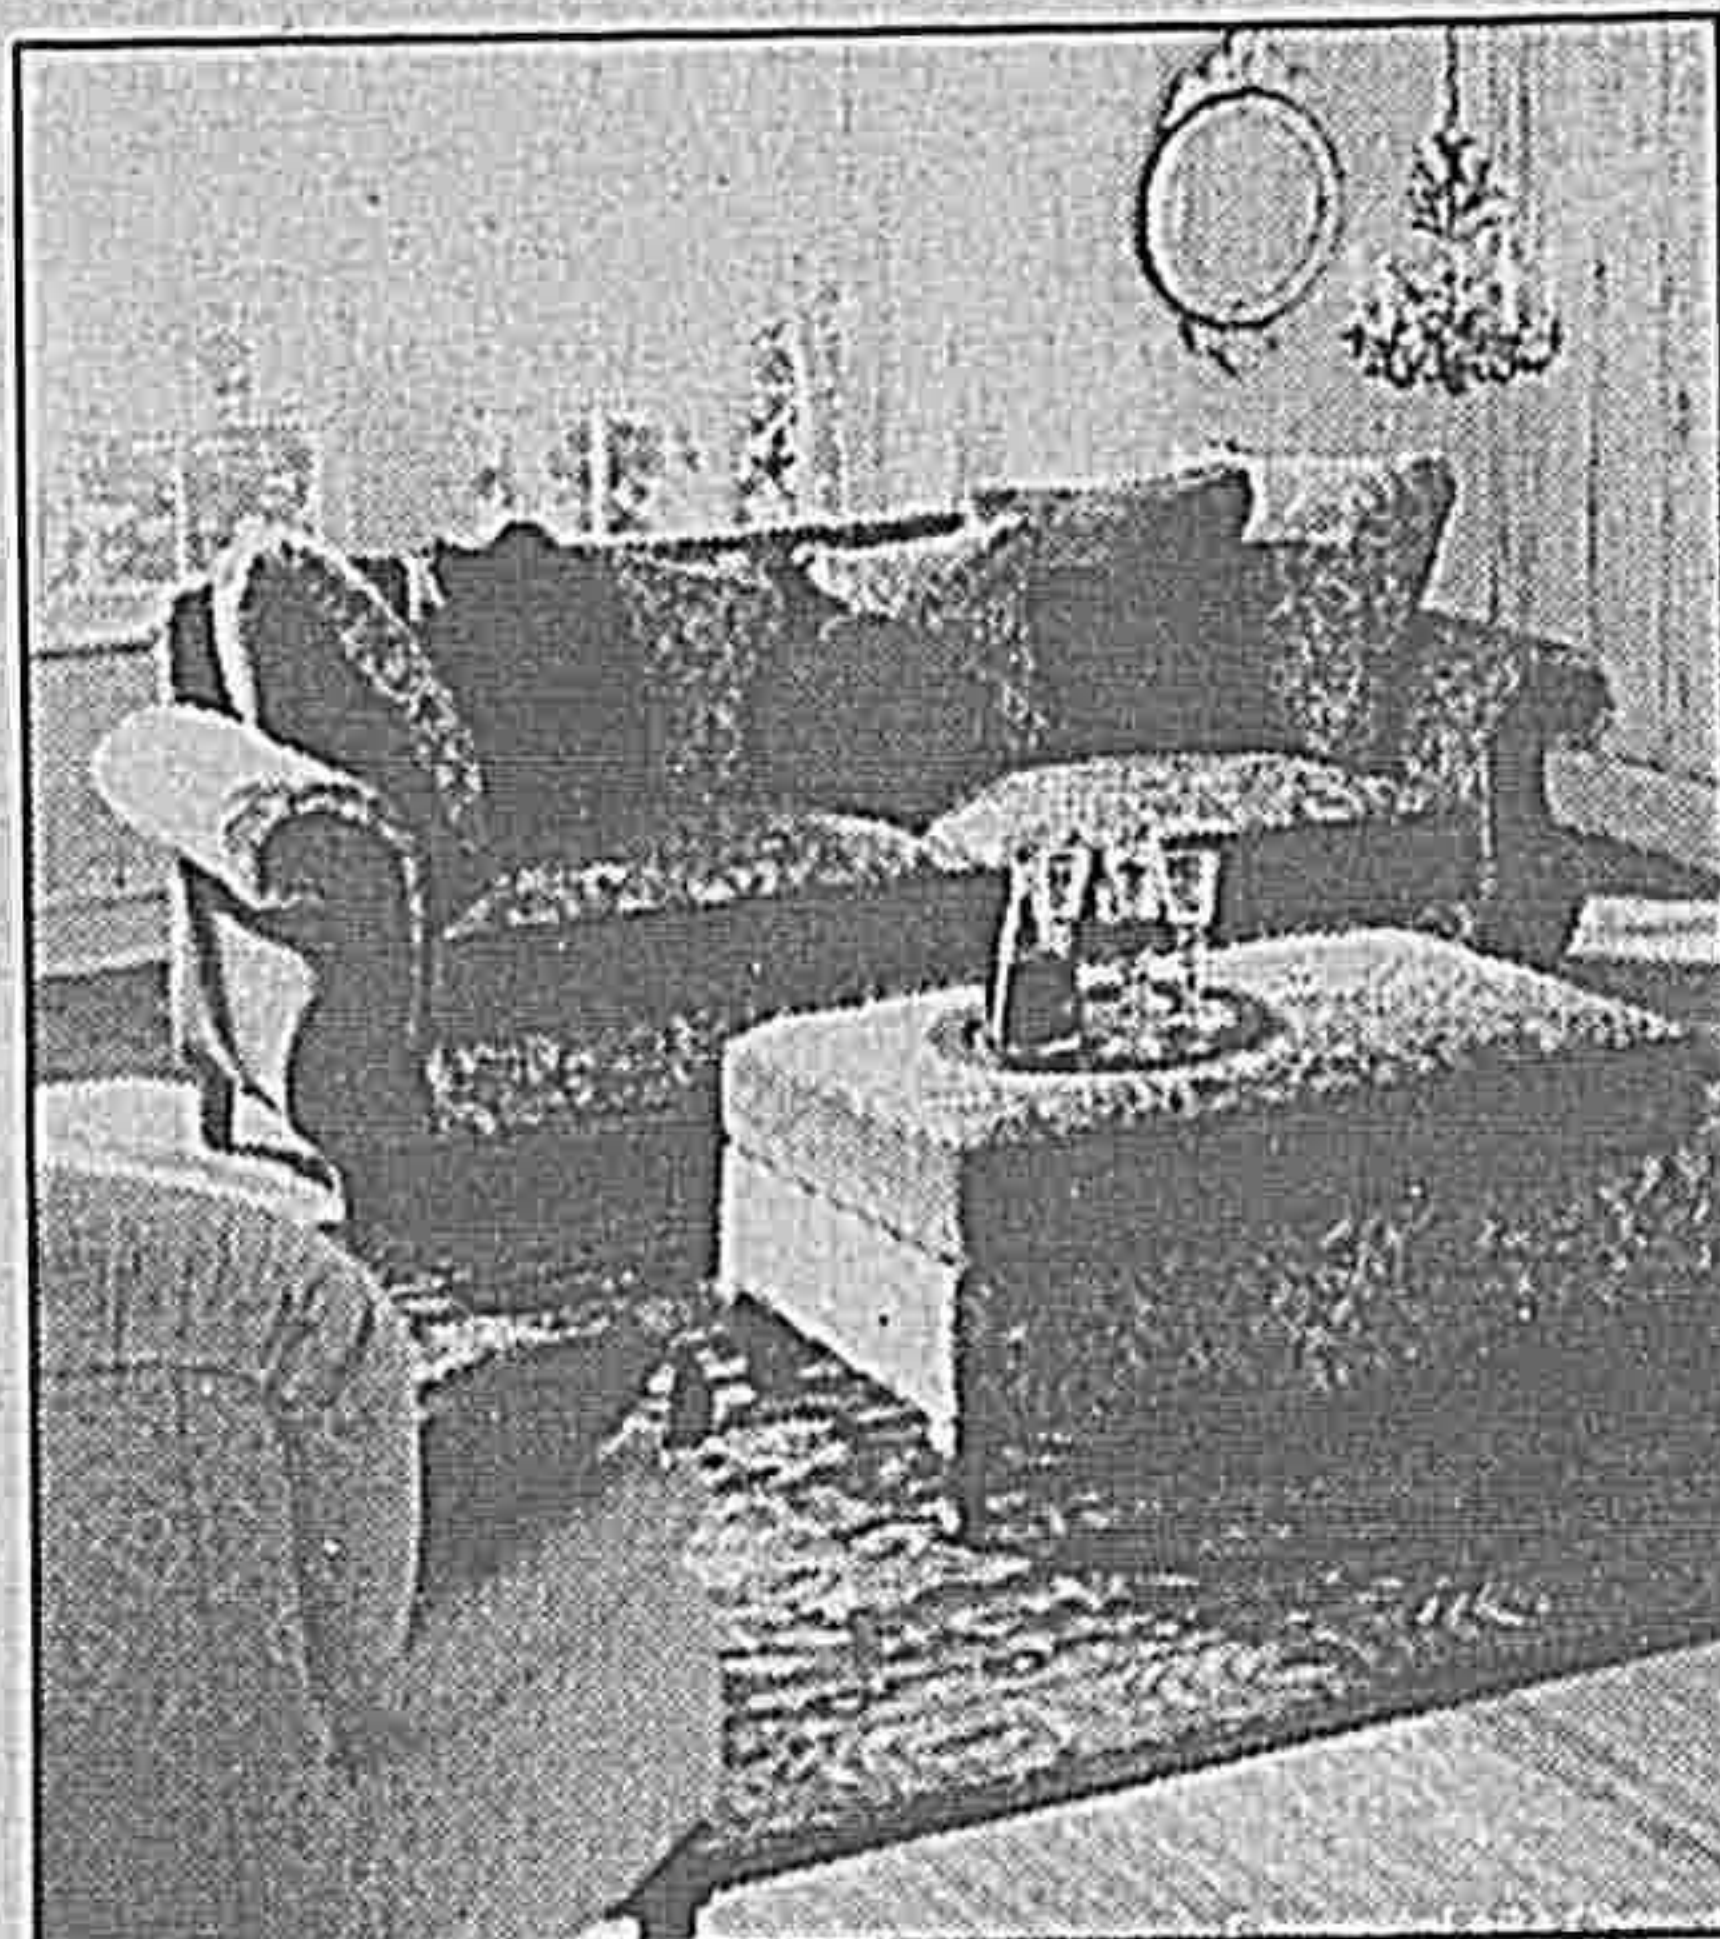

A custom-looking sofa or chair that expresses your individuality can be created easily by working with coordinating fabrics and interesting trims. A good furniture retailer will offer advice on how to coordinate multiple fabrics and textures on a piece of furniture. "Go for that signature piece in your home: A great-looking sofa or chair and ottoman. But make sure it fits into your home décor and withstands everyday use," says Schmitz. "Look for great-looking upholstered pieces that are a bit out-of-the-ordinary in their shape, scale or fabric. These core pieces can help build or rebuild the décor in your room."

This season, exciting new mixtures of fabrics, colors and shapes should give furniture shoppers some creative inspiration. "Keep in mind," says Schmitz, "that seeking out unique pieces of furniture for your home doesn't label your décor 'trendy' -- it simply makes your home more personal, comfortable and fun."

Fabric Finds for 2002

Smooth twills are making some exciting statements in bold colors such as red, gold, copper, raisin and rich shades of brown. Black and khaki are popular classics that are being revisited in fabric combinations such as toiles, florals, bold stripes and checks. In upholstery, shades of green are still strong staple colors to pull a room together.

Embroidered chenilles and tapestries also are finding their places in home fashion this season. Ethnic inspired sofas, chairs, and even classically-styled ottomans covered in kilim rugs have an appealing worldly influence and work beautifully in an eclectic room setting.

Today's upholstery styles are easier than ever to personalize. Arhaus Furniture's Chateau Sofa combines a luscious combination of five coordinating fabrics with the sturdy elegance of a solid hardwood frame.

According to Schmitz, furniture designers are thinking more about the versatility of a sofa or chair by using companion leathers and fabrics on opposite sides of cushions and pillows. This built-in versatility allows a consumer to change the look of a room instantly with a quick flip of a cushion.

Details, Details ... Delightful Details

This season, sofas are ready to take center stage with glamorous, vintage-inspired silhouettes that are updated and fresh for today's home décor. The classic look of beautifully-tailored, fitted backs and sculptural arms are emphasized by decorative trims and interesting kick-pleats. Interesting cording, twisted brocade and long, loopy eyelash fringe are all the rage for dressing up a sofa, chair or ottoman. And don't forget about nail heads. Oversized or miniature, these are a handsome detail.

"Think of trim as that special, personal accessory," says Schmitz. "Just like your wardrobe, the unexpected details are the ones that give your furniture a touch of personality and can pull a look together."

Ready to buy upholstered furniture? It's like buying a good suit

Like the best suit in your wardrobe, a sofa is the foundation of your room setting. The piece you choose should allow for versatility and be an expression of personal style. "Purchase a sofa as a staple item to your personal style -- just like a good suit," says Schmitz. "But always consider the construction and durability as well as the fashion statement it makes."

Shop for excellent craftsmanship, high-quality fabrics and materials that will withstand the test of time and use. That way, your sofa investment should last 10 to 15 years. Here are some helpful shopping tips for upholstered furniture:

- Solid Framework. A structurally sound frame provides the best comfort and durability. Look for construction that uses solid hardwood, kiln-dried to a moisture content of 8 percent or less. A well-made upholstered piece also incorporates firmly anchored, eight-way, hand-tied springs in its base.

- Testing, Testing. Test a sofa or chair in the store by wiggling its arm. It shouldn't move or squeak, but should feel solid. Also, press your hand against the decking, or platform, under the seat cushions. The less you feel the spring, the better the construction.

- Warranty. Frame warranties often indicate furniture quality, according to Schmitz. Usually, the longer the warranty term, the more well-made the product.

- Hefty is Good. Check cushions for their heft. Fine furniture uses high-density (around the 1.8-density mark) foam cushions wrapped in down or other soft material. This padding should be channel-stitched like a down comforter, to prevent it from shifting and settling to one side of a cushion. Foam and padding bagged together inside a cushion keep these materials intact and create a desirable "crown" along the cushion's sides. Furniture arms should also be padded, keeping the appearance and feel of wood framing completely unexposed.

- Attention to Detail. Fine tailoring -- another sign of good craftsmanship -- uses tight, straight stitches for strength and neatness. Finished seams, particularly on slipcovers, prevent fabric from fraying when it's washed.

- The Look. Look for upholstery with fabric focal points that are centered on cushions, pillows and backs. Also, be sure patterns match where seams meet. "Pattern matching requires a significant amount of fabric and marks good quality," says Schmitz.

- Lasting Beauty. Your fabric choice might well depend on who will be using your furniture, and how. For instance, if your sofa is Fido's favorite snoozing spot, stay clear of nubby fabrics that snag. A tightly woven material, such as tapestry, provides extra durability.

Gently used furnishings, on the other hand, might warrant fine linen or silk.

The perfect gift for those who give the gift of life

What wouldn't your mom do for you? Nothing. She can always be relied upon -- to share both the good and the bad -- and the only thing she asks in return is bragging rights to your accomplishments. Isn't this lady deserving of a special gift on Mother's Day?

Swarovski -- the world's largest manufacturer of full cut crystal -- certainly thinks so and to prove it, they are offering a limited edition crystal 'Mom' pendant necklace. Instead of bestowing disposable flowers or chocolates, giving Swarovski's 'Mom' pendant necklace -- a delicate silver chain with alternating crystallized letter and heart cubes, creatively spelling mom -- is a lasting way to show you care. The whimsical necklace also reverses to reveal an alternate pattern, providing the benefit of two necklaces in one. Attractive and meaningful, the necklace comes beautifully packaged in a double-tiered pink box, with a rose image and lavender bow accented breakaway top. A perfect gift from dad, baby or child to mom on Mother's Day, this unique pendant necklace also makes a thoughtful gift from a friend to a new or expecting mom.

Already a hit with the celebrity set, actresses Holly Robinson Peete, who is currently in her second pregnancy, and third time mom-to-be Marlee Matlin have been seen roaming around LA proudly sporting their necklaces and a glowing smile. Jaime

Bergman (Son of the Beach), who is expecting her first child with actor David 'Angel' Boreanez shortly, recently wore one during a photo shoot for the April issue of Pregnancy magazine. After all, letting the world know that she is a proud mother is mom's favorite thing to do. "My role as a mother is most important to me and I want to let the world know," says Josie Bissett (formerly of Melrose Place). "Swarovski's 'Mom' necklace is a fun, fashionable way to do exactly that."

The Swarovski 'Mom' pendant necklace retails for $65 and is available at department and specialty stores nationwide, as well as Swarovski Gallery Stores in major cities. For local outlets, call (800) 426-3088.

Discover the history of mother's day

The earliest Mother's Day celebrations can be traced back to the spring celebrations of ancient Greece in honor of Rhea, the Mother of the Gods. During the 1600s, England celebrated a day called "Mothering Sunday," on the fourth Sunday of Lent (the 40-day period leading up to Easter). "Mothering Sunday" honored the mothers of England.

During this time many of England's poor worked as servants for the wealthy. As most jobs were located far from their homes, the servants would live at the houses of their employers. On Mothering Sunday the servants would have the day off and were encouraged to return home and spend the day with their mothers. A special cake, called the mothering cake, was often brought along to provide a festive touch.

As Christianity spread throughout Europe the celebration changed to honor the "Mother Church" — the spiritual power that gave them life and protected them from harm. Over time the church festival blended with the Mothering Sunday celebration. People began honoring their mothers as well as the church. In the United States, Mother's Day was first suggested in 1872 by Julia Ward Howe (who wrote the words to the "Battle Hymn of the Republic") as a day dedicated to peace. Ms. Howe would hold organized Mother's Day meetings in Boston, Mass. every year.

In 1907, Ana Jarvis, of Philadelphia, began a campaign to establish a national Mother's Day. Ms. Jarvis persuaded her mother's church in Grafton, West Va., to celebrate Mother's Day on the second anniversary of her mother's death, the second Sunday of May. By the next year, Mother's Day was also celebrated in Philadelphia.

Ms. Jarvis and her supporters began to write to ministers, businessmen and politicians in their quest to establish a national Mother's Day. It was successful, and by 1911 Mother's Day was celebrated in almost every state. In 1914, President Woodrow Wilson made the official announcement proclaiming Mother's Day as a national holiday that was to be held each year on the second Sunday of May. While many countries of the world celebrate their own Mother's Days at different times throughout the year, there are some countries, like Denmark, Finland, Italy, Turkey, Australia and Belgium, that also celebrate Mother's Day on the second Sunday of May.

Simmel Cake

This cake has now become an Easter cake but originally it was given by servant girls to their mothers when they went home on Mothering Sunday. Recipe courtesy of www.britannia.com.

Cake Ingredients

- 1 cup butter, softened
- 1 cup light muscovado sugar
- 4 eggs
- 1 cup self-rising flour
- 1 cup Sultanas
- 1/2 cup currants
- 1/2 cup Glacé cherries, quartered
- 1/4 cup chopped candied peel
- Zest of 2 lemons
- 2 teaspoons mixed spice

Filling and topping Ingredients

- 1 pound almond paste
- 2 tablespoons apricot jam
- 1 egg, beaten, to glaze

1. Preheat oven to 300 F. Butter and line the base and sides of an 8-inch deep round cake tin with buttered greaseproof paper.
2. Place all the cake ingredients in a large bowl and beat well until completely blended. Place half the mixture in the prepared tin and level the surface.
3. Take one-third of the almond paste and roll it out into a circle the size of the tin. Place it on top of the cake mixture. Spoon the remaining cake mixture over and smooth the surface.
4. Bake for about two hours until well-risen and firm to the touch. Cover with foil after one hour if the top is browning too quickly. Allow the cake to cool in the tin for ten minutes before turning out onto a wire rack to cool completely.
5. When the cake has cooled, brush the top with a little warmed apricot jam and roll out half the remaining almond paste to fit the top. Press firmly on the top and crimp the edges to decorate.
6. Mark a criss-cross pattern on the almond paste with a sharp knife. If desired, form the remaining almond paste into 11 balls.
7. Brush the almond paste with beaten egg and arrange the balls around the outside. Brush the tops of the balls with egg as well. Place the cake under a hot grill to turn the almond paste golden.
8. Decorate with crystallized flowers such as violets, primroses and jonquils, if desired.

VILLAGE OF ROUND LAKE ANNUAL WATER QUALITY REPORT 2002

Este informe contiene informacion muy importante. Tadascalo o hable con alguien que lo entienda bien.

This years report will not be mailed to our residents.

Purpose

Each year the Village will issue a report of this type to provide information about the quality of our drinking water as well as details on the source of our water, how it is treated, and what it contains. The reports are being issued in compliance with the requirements of the Safe Drinking Water Act and are also intended to demonstrate the Village's commitment to providing a safe and reliable supply of drinking water for our residents.

Background

Since 1992 the Village has purchased water from the Central Lake County Joint Action Water Agency (CLCJAWA). CLCJAWA is an intergovernmental cooperative, formed by the communities it serves: Grayslake, Gurnee, Lake Bluff, Libertyville, Mundelein, Round Lake, Round Lake Beach, Round Lake Heights, Round Lake Park, and the County of Lake representing the unincorporated areas of Knollwood/Rondout and Wildwood and the Village of Vernon Hills.

The Water Treatment Process

All drinking water in the Village of Round Lake comes from Lake Michigan. This surface water source is treated by CLCJAWA at the Paul M. Neal Water Treatment Facility in Lake Bluff. The water is pumped from Lake Michigan and then undergoes a treatment process designed to assure constant contaminant removal and production of clean, safe drinking water that is also aesthetically pleasing. There are two features of the treatment process, which provide unique capabilities. First, water from Lake Michigan goes through a primary disinfecting step using ozone, which has been found to be highly effective in removing contaminants and in deactivating disease-causing pathogens. And, finally, the treated water passes through filters of granular activated carbon, which remove any remaining contaminants and particles from the water and has also proven to be proficient in eliminating problems sometimes encountered with unpleasant tastes or odors.

The Village's Delivery System

Once the treated water reaches Round Lake, it is handled in one of two ways. The water is either stored in our 500,000 gallon ground storage reservoir, located at our booster pump station on Nippersink Rd., or it can be pumped directly into the distribution system from our booster pump station located near the Village Hall on Cedar Lake Rd. The Village also has two 750,000 gallon elevated storage tanks (water towers). These water towers are filled as needed from either the Nippersink Rd. pump station or the Cedar Lake Rd. pump station. One tower is located on Wilson Rd. in the Valley Lakes subdivisions, the other is located on Panther Dr. in the industrial park.

Water Quality

Drinking water, including bottled water, may reasonably be expected to contain at least small amounts of some contaminants. The presence of contaminants does not necessarily indicate that water poses a health risk. More information about contaminants and potential health effects can be obtained by calling the US Environmental Protection Agency's (USEPA) Safe Drinking Water Hotline at 1-800-426-4791. To ensure that tap water is safe to drink, the Environmental Protection Agency prescribes limits on the amount of certain contaminants in water provided by public water systems. The Food and Drug Administration (FDA) imposes fewer restrictions for contaminants in bottled water, which must provide the same protection for public health. Our tap water quality is consistently monitored by the Village, by the Illinois Environmental Protection Agency (IEPA), in the CLCJAWA Water Quality Lab, and by several other "third party" labs. This aggressive water quality assurance program is unmatched: bacteriological tests are conducted much more often than required, water clarity monitored every second, and over 360 contaminants are monitored on a routine basis. Water quality is judged by comparing our water to USEPA benchmarks for water quality. One such benchmark is called the Maximum Contaminant Level Goal (MCLG). The MCLG is the level of a contaminant in drinking water below which there is no known or expected risk to health. This goal allows for a margin of safety. Another benchmark is a Maximum Contaminant Level (MCL). An MCL is the highest level of a contaminant that is allowed in drinking water. An MCL is set as close to an MCLG as feasible using the best available treatment technology.

The water produced by CLCJAWA has never violated any water quality standard.

However, of the 360 contaminants monitored, minute quantities of some regulated compounds do exist. The table below lists all of the regulated compounds detected in our water, even in the most minute traces. The table lists the compound detected, the level found, the range of detection, the ideal goal for public health (MCLG), the highest level allowed by regulation (MCL), the last sample date for the year, any violations, and the sources of these compounds. The range of detection column specifies the minimum and maximum amounts of each compound detected. If the two numbers in the range of detection column are identical, there was only one sample analyzed during the year. Compounds listed in italics> were measured by CLCJAWA, all other compounds were measured by the Village.

Abbreviations and what they mean:

(AL) Action Level is the level of lead that triggers special treatment or other required actions by a water supply

NTU Nephelometric Turbidity Units is a measure of water cloudiness. pico Curles per liter. The MCL for beta particles is 4 mrem/year. EPA considers 50 pCi/L to be a level of concern for beta particles ppb parts per billion or micrograms per liter (µg/L)

ppm parts-per-million or milligrams per liter (mg/l)

TT Treatment Technique refers to a required process intended to reduce a contaminant level in drinking water.

N/A not applicable

Lead:

There is no detectable lead in the water that CLCJAWA provides to each community. Some homes with old lead service lines, lead plumbing, or lead solder, may have lead in their water. To minimize this contamination, the Illinois EPA requires phosphate addition to our water in very low quantities of 0.3 ppm orthophosphate. This commonly used food ingredient coats the inside of your plumbing with a thin film. The film reduces the level of lead that may enter your water.

Sodium:

There is no state or federal MCL for sodium. Monitoring is required to provide information to consumers in case you are concerned about sodium intake due to dietary precautions. If the sodium level in our water was greater than 20 ppm, and you were on a sodium restricted diet, you would be advised to consult a physician.

Turbidity:

Turbidity is a measure of the cloudiness of the water. CLCJAWA monitors it because it is a good indicator of water quality and the effectiveness of their filtration and disinfection systems. Turbidity is monitored every six seconds by instruments and every four hours in the lab.

Additional Contaminant Monitoring

Our system also monitors for substances in water for which no standards have been set or for contaminants for which we are not required to monitor.

We take the initiative to check our water for things that concern the public and the scientific community. In 1999, this additional testing included among numerous other things, asbestos. No asbestos was detected in the water entering the CLCJAWA water treatment plant.

Contamination Sources in Drinking Water

Our tap water comes from Lake Michigan, a surface water source. With a depth of 900 feet, Lake Michigan is the largest lake in the United States, formed as glaciers retreated north during the last ice age. The Great Lakes contain approximately 20% of the fresh water on Earth's surface. More water evaporates off of Lake Michigan each minute than CLCJAWA pumps in an entire day. Since the United States and Canada formed the Great Lakes Water Quality Agreement in 1972, Great Lakes water quality has steadily improved. The Illinois EPA will complete a source water assessment of Lake Michigan by May 2003. As this information becomes available it will be incorporated in future Water Quality reports.

Both tap and bottled water come from rivers, lakes, streams, ponds, reservoirs, springs, and wells. As water travels over the surface of land or through the ground, it dissolves naturally occurring materials and can pick up substances resulting from the presence of animal or human activity. Contaminants that may be present in untreated water include:

- Microbial contaminants such as viruses and bacteria can be naturally occurring or may come from sewage treatment plants, septic systems, and livestock operations.
- Inorganic contaminants such as salts and metals can be naturally occurring or result from urban storm water runoff, wastewater discharges, oil and gas production, mining, or farming.
- Pesticides and herbicides come from sources such as agricultural and residential storm water runoff.
- Organic chemical contaminants including synthetic and volatile organic compounds are by-products of industrial processes and petroleum production but can also come from gas stations, urban storm water runoff and septic systems.
- Radioactive contaminants can be naturally occurring or be the result of oil, gas, and mining activities.

Immuno-Compromised Persons

Some people may be more vulnerable to contaminants in drinking water than the general population. Immuno-compromised persons such as persons with cancer undergoing chemotherapy, persons who have undergone organ transplants, people with HIV/AIDS or other immune system disorders, some elderly, and infants can be particularly at risk from infections. These people should seek advice about drinking water from their health care providers. The USEPA and Center for Disease Control (CDC) guidelines on appropriate means to lessen the risk of infection by Cryptosporidium and other microbial contaminants are available from the USEPA Safe Drinking Water Hotline at 1-800-426-4791.

Public Meetings

The Village Board meets on the first and third Monday of each month, and the public is always welcome to attend any of these meetings. Village Trustee Donald Newby is also a member of the Board of Directors of CLCJAWA, which meets on the fourth Wednesday of each month. CLCJAWA provides tours of the water treatment facility, and staff members are also available for public speaking or for school visits. Please contact the Village or CLCJAWA for more information.

Information Resources

The Lake County Health Department may be contacted at 847-360-6747.

For specific information about CLCJAWA, our water's quality, a complete water quality report of all tested contaminants, or any other water related question, contact Davis R. Clark at 847-546-0962 or Melanie VanHeirseele at CLCJAWA, 847-295-7788. Or, visit our web page at www.eroundlake.com or the CLCJAWA web page at www.clc-jawa.com.

ATTENTION PET OWNERS We Do Not Knowingly Accept Ads For Free/Giveaway Animals

If you must give up your beloved pet, please consider these suggestions. *Free animal ads suggest that there is something wrong with the animal, or that it has no value. *Some people who respond to these free animal ads are imposters and are only concerned about making a profit and not the animal's welfare. *Charging a fee to a potential pet owner confirms the responsibility of pet ownership for an entire lifetime of that pet. For more information, please contact the Humane Society.

How To Survive The Job Search By Nancy Sakol

Q: I had contacted (company name withheld) over the telephone that had been advertising a job in the paper. The position was in middle management and in the salary range of the company I had just left after 8 years. After a short discussion I was asked to come in for an interview. The person on the other end said that she was in the Personnel Department, and that my qualifications sounded just like what they were looking for in their company. We set up the interview for the next day. I arrived for a 10:00 interview approximately 35 minutes late due to traffic congestion. When I arrived, I was told by the receptionist that the party I was supposed to meet with would no longer be available to meet with me because I arrived so late and would not be rescheduling the interview. I was appalled. After fighting the traffic and being told that I wouldn't be seen or rescheduled, I became angry with the receptionist and said that she should call the person in Personnel and tell them that I was here and would like the opportunity to explain why I was a little late. She refused to call the person stating that they were now in another interview and she would not interrupt them. I said I would wait. After 40 minutes went by and I saw what appeared to be another candidate leaving. I asked the receptionist to please find out. She asked me to please have a seat. She made a call and the hung up. Much to my surprise within a few minutes I found myself escorted out of the building by two security officers who waited until I drove my car off the premises. I can not believe this company went to such extremes all because I was 35 minutes late and wanted the chance to explain myself.

A: NEVER arrive late for an interview. Always prepare yourself by testing out the route, alternative routes and leaving early enough to allow for traffic congestion. It is better to be 10 minutes early than 5 minutes late. The receptionist was doing her job when she told you that you would not be interviewed and not rescheduled. These were obvious orders she was given to tell you should you show up. To argue the issue with her was out of line. To wait around after you were told this by her was also unacceptable and was more than likely regarded as strange behavior. Apparently it seemed as though you were not willing to take "no" for an answer.
 When security was called, it was more than likely at the discretion of the receptionist which she had every right to do. After reading this, I hope you can take a look back and put yourself in the position of the receptionist and the interviewer. The interviewer had every right not to reschedule your interview. The fact is you didn't show up on time or even contact them to say you were running late for what ever reason. If you had at least called, you may have found out that they were willing to push your interview to another time or that the interviewer had back to back interviews and would not have been able to fit you in. It was all in the way you chose to handle the situation. Don't blame the interviewer for your lack of interviewing etiquette. That also includes putting the receptionist in an awkward position. Just for the record, 35 minutes is more than, "a little late"!
